THIS IS ART? — French painter Georges Mathieu wipes paint from his arms after showing his technique to painters and art students at Duesseldorf, Germany, art academy. Behind him is his work "Abduction of Henry IV by Archbishop Anno from Kaiserpfalz at Kaiserwerth." He completed it in little more than an hour. He began by covering the canvas with many tubes of black to fill 13 foot by 6 1/2 foot area. Then, using three brushes at a time, he applied the other colors. A spectacular part of his technique was squirting paint from tubes at a distance of 10 feet. There was no report on how good his aim was. (AP Photofox)

Stock Move Aims Blow At Inflation

Margin Requirement Cut Follows Bad News On Output, Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today lowered another anti-inflation barrier—the margin requirement on stock purchases—after breaking bad news on both production and income.

Effective today the Federal Reserve Board cut from 70 to 50 per cent the margin, or down payment, required for purchase of shares on the nation's sluggish stock exchanges. The 70 per cent requirement had been in effect for nearly three years.

The reduction was hailed by Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, as giving the market a desirable added liquidity that he said would help industry raise new funds for working capital and expansion.

Other Reaction Mixed
Other reaction from financial circles was mixed, with some specialists sharing Funston's optimism, others viewing the action as having only temporary effects on the market, and still others saying they thought the impact would be negligible. But most of those who commented expressed surprise.

First effects were felt on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco. It was still open when the reserve board's action was announced, and prices spurted ahead in active trading.

Reserve board officials declined to make any forecasts that the move might help reverse the downward trend of business investment in new plant and equipment. But their action spoke for itself: If such a movement developed, high margin requirements would not be standing in the way of stock issues.

1957 Ends With Bump
The board's decision was made public immediately after two announcements which revealed that business ended 1957 with a harder-than-expected bump. These reports were:

1. Personal income, said the Commerce Department, dropped to a $349,670,000 annual rate in December, down more than 2 1/2 billion dollars from November. This was the largest of four successive monthly declines, cutting the income of individuals 40 per cent from a year earlier. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Conductors Cancel Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of New York Central Railroad conductors on trains east of Buffalo, N.Y., was called unexpectedly by a union division early today, and then ordered canceled by national union officials 10 minutes before the 6 a.m. walkout hour.

The rapid-fire developments led to considerable confusion at New York's big Grand Central Terminal, both among railroad officials and prospective passengers. At first it was believed train schedules might be seriously snarled, because of conductors failing to get the back-to-work order in time.

Only one train actually failed to run, a local to Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Some others were delayed as much as 48 minutes but by 7:45 a.m. the railroad said both long-distance operations and commuter service in the metropolitan area were about normal.

Planes Flap Wings 'Ornithopters' Created By Russian Designers

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio announced today that Soviet aircraft designers "have created" ornithopters—aircraft which fly like birds by flapping their wings. The broadcast, quoting the Soviet news agency Tass, did not make clear whether the Russians actually have such machines flying or have only reached an advanced design stage. Moscow radio said the wing flappers "can be used conveniently for flights over short distances. They can take off from any place, hover in the air and land anywhere."

The ornithopter's lifting power was described as being "about three or four times that of an ordinary aircraft" using the same engine power. The broadcast claimed that an ornithopter capable of carrying 15 people would operate on the same power as a conventional training plane carrying only two persons.

If the Russians have made ornithopters fly, they have mastered mechanical difficulties that balked men for centuries in their efforts to get into the air.

Soviet designers have created ornithopters with two distinct wing shapes, Moscow radio said, adding: "Pavel Smirnov designed a machine with wings resembling those of a bird, while (the) German Rybnikov designed wings resembling those of insects."

House Group Slaps At U. S. Arms Waste

Congress, Executive Review Of Situation Requested In Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Government Operations Committee today suggested billions of dollars worth of U. S. arms aid has been wasted. It called for a complete review by Congress and the executive branch.

It reported military assistance often is granted for political rather than strictly military reasons, with a resulting financial loss such as "planes without anybody to fly them, vehicles without gasoline to run them."

It listed cases as the United States being charged for rental of 112 million dollars worth of machine tools given Britain; stockpiling of an 84 years' supply of linseed oil at a U. S. base in Germany; and construction of an air base at Torrejon, Spain, so close to a civilian field that flights are hampered.

The committee report was the first issued by a congressional investigative group this session and pointed to what may be in store when President Eisenhower's request for nearly four billion dollars in new aid funds comes before Congress.

The document was written by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Farnsworth (D-Fla.) which toured Europe last fall armed with findings from the General Accounting Office. The parent committee approved the report.

Jet Can Destroy Fleet Of Planes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Col. Sidney Bruce of the Atomic Energy Division of the North American Air Defense Command told aviation writers yesterday the F101B Voodoo and its atomic rocket are designed to knock out an entire fleet of enemy bombers.

The Voodoo is a jet interceptor and all-weather fighter made by McDonnell Aircraft Corp. St. Louis. The rocket it carries is the Genie, made by Douglas Aircraft Co.

Also Urges Production Curb Eased

'Progress Program' Holds Out Hope For Cut In Food Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called for lower government price supports for major farm crops and dairy products, and an easing of production restrictions.

In a special message to Congress, Eisenhower laid out in 14 points what he termed a progress program and said it would let farmers benefit more from their own unparalleled ability to produce.

The program held out the prospect too of eventual lower food costs for consumers.

Productivity Revolution
Eisenhower told Congress that agriculture in recent years has been experiencing a veritable revolution in productivity.

"Farm production per man-hour has doubled since 1940," he said. "There has been more change in agriculture within the lifetime of men now living than in the previous 2,000 years."

Eisenhower said the rapid changes taking place in agriculture are largely the result of a major breakthrough in agricultural science and technology, constitute a revolution that cannot be reversed, and are continuing. "It cannot be avoided and it need not be feared," he said.

Must Utilize More
"In recognition of this basic fact, we must find ways of utilizing more completely the abundance that our farm people are now able to produce; we must find ways of further expanding markets for this increased production, not only among our own citizens but among people all over the world who need the food and clothing we produce in such abundance."

In outlining his recommendations, Eisenhower said it was essential that they be accepted this year to improve the status of rural people in greatest need, to aid agricultural adjustment, provide more freedom, expand markets, and, thereby, to help raise farm family income.

Legislative Action
The proposals would require legislative action in some cases, administrative decisions in others and shifts in appropriations in still others. They included:

1. Change the 1 1/2 billion dollar annual soil bank program by abandoning next year the costlier short-term acreage reserve and strengthening the longer-term conservation reserve. He proposed 450 million dollars for payments to farmers for retiring cropland of any kind for long periods and putting it to grass, trees or other noncrop uses.

U. S.-Soviet Dispute Ends

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. military trains were running on schedule between Berlin and West Germany today and Allied officials minimized the dispute with Russian guards that led to delays yesterday.

The U. S. mission in Berlin filed a formal complaint with the Russians. The difficulty began when a Soviet guard asked for a new kind of stamp on one train's documents, one informant said. The U. S. train commander refused, and a long wait resulted. Three more trains also were delayed.

Ex-Brig Inmate In Japan Cites Open Mistreatment

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A former inmate of the Sasebo naval prison, who testified today that he was mistreated so badly that he "thought everybody knew about it,"

The testimony was given at the general court-martial of Sgt. Adrian A. McLane, 23, Philadelphia, in former assistant brig warden at the U. S. base in south Japan. McLane, a 200-pound six-footer, is the last of 16 Marine guards to be tried on charges of mistreating prisoners. He pleaded innocent to two of 16 charges of cruelty and two of assault with a dangerous weapon. The maximum total penalty is 26 years in prison.

Nine of the guards have been convicted but reviewing authorities have reversed four of the conviction. The heaviest sentence given so far has been eight months at hard labor, reduction in rank and a fine.

Navy Fireman Carlos E. Vota, Amarillo, Tex., testified that McLane and other guards slapped him in the face, struck him in the stomach with their fists, and made him squat with his hands stretched out holding a ruler.

Vota, who served a brief term for insubordination, said he did not complain after his release because McLane "had threatened me the night before with a riot gun."

"I was beaten for seven days, and you get awful scared after that," he added.

Johnson Appeals For Ike To Head Defense Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas today called on President Eisenhower to take full responsibility for Defense Department reorganization—something Eisenhower indicated he is reluctant to do.

Johnson, who heads the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said it is encouraging that Secretary of Defense McElroy "is drawing upon experienced people to come up with a specific plan for reorganization."

McElroy named Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and two of his predecessors, Gen. Omar N. Bradley and Adm. Arthur Radford, to advise him on defense realignments. A number of civilian advisers also will be named, McElroy said, but they, like the military men, will act as individual advisers and not a committee.

While Johnson applauded this action, he made it clear he wants the administration to take the responsibility for drafting a plan and then to spell out to Congress any legislative changes that are needed.

"This is properly an executive function and detailed recommendations will be very helpful to Congress," Johnson said.

Eisenhower told his news conference he would be "the last to ask for a detailed organization in which I believe" because such an organization had to be effective in the long range after he was no longer president.

He said there must be a consensus reached with Congress and the armed services heads on any plan and his own personal convictions could not be the final answer.

Probe Group Move Valid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the validity of the resolution creating the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

It did so in reaffirming 5-4 the contempt of Congress conviction of Lloyd Barenblatt, who formerly taught at the University of Michigan and Vassar College.

Barenblatt was charged with contempt for refusing to tell the committee whether he was, or had been, a Communist party member when he appeared before the committee June 28, 1954.

Dulles Says Summit Talks Failure Would Be Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today "We do want a summit meeting" with Russia and other nations.

But it would be a fatal disaster, he said, if such a session diverted free nations from needed security measures "without any comparable change in the Sino-Soviet bloc."

And it also would be a disaster, Dulles added, if Western world leaders were forced to break off a summit conference in an atmosphere of hostility because that could "intensify the cold war and make more likely that it would turn into a hot war."

Because of these considerations, Dulles said in a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon, any top level East-West meeting must be carefully prepared for with good prospect of achieving results for peace.

He said that was the essence of President Eisenhower's message Sunday to Soviet Premier Bulganin. Then Dulles added:

"It is now for the Soviet rulers to make clear whether or not they want a 'summit' conference which will genuinely promote the cause of peace and justice in the world. We do."

Defense Bill To Get Quick Senate Vote

Air Force Measure Passes House Test By Margin Of 347-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prompt Senate approval was forecast today for a House-passed emergency Air Force construction bill as a House subcommittee followed through on a measure to provide actual funds.

A unanimous 347-0 House vote sent to the Senate a bill to authorize $549,670,000 of new Air Force funds. It includes projects for a start on the nation's third base for intercontinental ballistic missiles, dispersal of bomber bases, a missile warning system and other works.

Chairman Stennis (D-Miss) said he will call hearings early next week before a Senate armed services subcommittee in an effort to hurry the measure to the Senate floor.

The authorization bill sets up some of the projects for which money would be provided in a $1,250,000,000 missile money bill which House leaders said may come to a vote there next week.

The House Defense Appropriations subcommittee has completed hearings on the money bill and members predicted today substantial approval of the entire amount.

"There may be some minor changes here and there," one subcommittee member told a reporter, "but there will be no major alterations."

The Air Force construction bill is the first step in speeded-up defense plans developed to offset Russian progress in the missile-satellite fields.

Before passing it, the House adopted a hastily drafted amendment to give Secretary of Defense McElroy specific authority to set up the Advanced Research Projects Agency he wants. The money bill would provide 10 million dollars for the agency.

Investigations of the defense situation continued on both sides of the Capitol.

The House Armed Services Committee, meeting behind closed doors, recalled McElroy and his top missile experts for further questioning in a broad study expected to continue for several more weeks.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which started earlier in an investigation centered more directly on missiles, is moving to conclude its hearings next week.

New Frederick By-pass Opens; Largest In State

FREDERICK (AP)—Gov. McKeldin dedicated the multi-million dollar Frederick by-pass expressway today, braving snow flurries and a biting wind to open the traffic artery around Frederick's downtown congestion.

"No longer," said McKeldin, "would travelers from Washington to Hagerstown, Cumberland, Pittsburgh and the west have to 'wind' through narrow streets built for the wagons and stagecoaches of the 18th century."

The Frederick by-pass is the state's biggest and most elaborate relief route around one of its cities. It covers 14 miles, including interchanges, ramps and connections. It includes 12 major bridges and 11 interchanges.

The by-pass will eventually handle traffic from three main highways—U. S. 40, U. S. 240 and U. S. 340.

Because of these considerations, Dulles said in a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon, any top level East-West meeting must be carefully prepared for with good prospect of achieving results for peace.

He said that was the essence of President Eisenhower's message Sunday to Soviet Premier Bulganin. Then Dulles added:

"It is now for the Soviet rulers to make clear whether or not they want a 'summit' conference which will genuinely promote the cause of peace and justice in the world. We do."

And Without His Parachute:
Bob Hope Nearly Ejects
Self From B47 Bomber

HOLLYWOOD — Bob Hope, the comic told a reporter, disclosed today that he nearly ejected himself minus parachute from a B47 jet bomber flying 60,000 feet over the Pacific.

The incident occurred on his recent 18,400-mile tour to entertain troops in the Pacific during the Christmas holidays.

"The only thing that saved me from taking the biggest dive of my career was a lack of sleep," he said.

"They sat me in the co-pilot's seat with oxygen mask, crash helmet and parachute. We weren't in the air long before I got to feeling very uneasy, a real claustrophobia. I couldn't see anything but a panel of instruments."

"I started sweating, took off my parachute and then asked the pilot if it was possible to make my seat go up so I could see out the blister. He told me to pull a little lever, similar to the kind on power seats in your car."

"I was a little groggy from lack of sleep and pulled the wrong lever. The pilot, watching me in a mirror, screamed: 'Get your hand off that!'"

"It was the automatic pilot clearly indicated the three fell in to the sea when the tanker broke apart during a storm early yesterday."

The other 35 crew members were picked up by Dutch and Italian vessels.

Trio Feared
Lost At Sea

ALGIERS — Search continued in the western Mediterranean today for the captain and two stewards of the broken Norwegian tanker Seirstad. It was believed they were lost.

French admiralty spokesman said messages received in Algiers clearly indicated the three fell in to the sea when the tanker broke apart during a storm early yesterday.

The other 35 crew members were picked up by Dutch and Italian vessels.

9 To 25 Inch
Snowfall Hits
In Northeast

Storm Accompanied
By Gale Force Wind,
High Tides In Area

By The Associated Press

Fresh snow today thickened the snow blanket covering the Northeast section of the nation with depths measured at from 9 to 25 inches.

A nor'easter yesterday clobbered the region with gale force winds and high tides in addition to heavy snow.

The snow cover extended as far south as West Virginia and northern Kentucky but the fall was relatively light in these areas.

Fresh snow brought the depth at Rumford, Maine, to 25 inches. Caribou, Maine, measured 20 inches of snow on the ground. In western New Hampshire, Lebanon recorded 18 inches, and Albany, N.Y., had a 9-inch blanket.

The storm caused closing of some schools in New York state areas and broke power lines and disrupted highway travel.

In the Boston area, wharves and railroad bridges were flooded by abnormally high tides. Along the New England coast winds were clocked at 40 to 60 m.p.h. during the height of the nor'easter.

Hush-Hush Information:
Civilian Firm Transfers
Space, Missile Secrets

BALTIMORE — Most of the nation's top military secrets dealing with space flight, ballistics, missiles, nuclear bombers and manned satellite stations are being entrusted to a civilian transfer company, starting today.

Elaborate security arrangements have been made to protect the highly classified documents of the Air Research and Development Command during its move to Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

More than 25,000 items from waste baskets to safes crammed with hush-hush information will be moved from three Baltimore buildings now occupied by the ARDC.

Fuchs Transfer, Inc., Baltimore moving firm, will make the mammoth haul in 130 trailer trucks.

The move will continue around the clock for the next 15 days. Fuchs was low bidder at $23,000 on a government contract for the job.

The move involves 1,650 persons with a monthly payroll of $800,000, including 810 civilians and 841 servicemen (most of them high-ranking Air Force officers), plus tons of office equipment, papers and other paraphernalia.

ARDC, largest research and development organization in the world, supervises scientific and technical studies for the Air Force.

In Two Phases

The giant move will be made in two phases so that each department of the command will be kept in business both in Baltimore and at Andrews until the transfer is completed.

A spokesman for Fuchs transfer said air policemen have been assigned to each truck. Every truckload will be sealed and the whereabouts of each van will be known by air police at all times.

Main Rocket
Engine Test
Successful

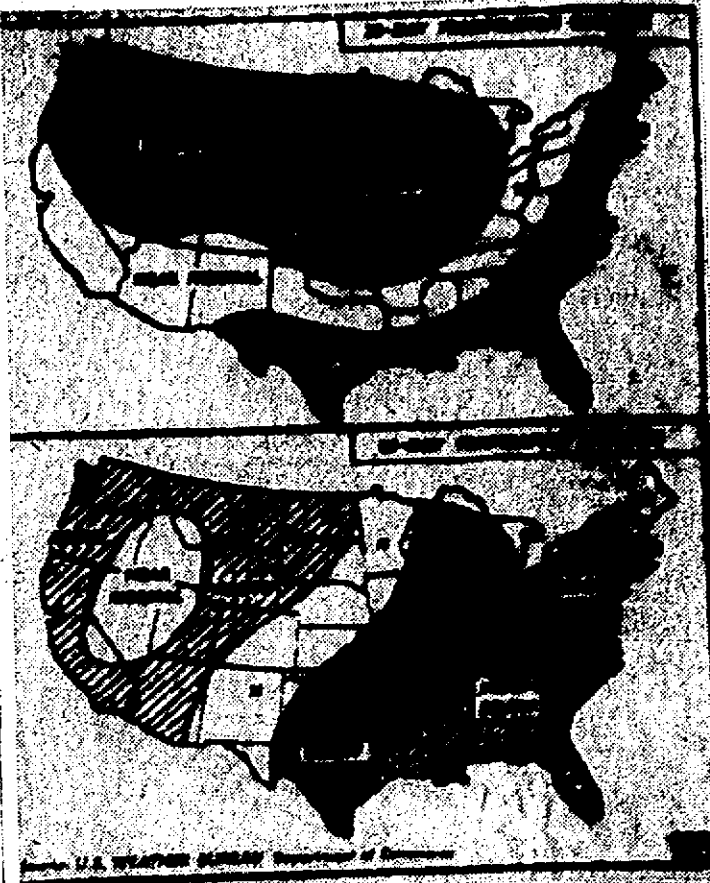

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Martin Co. and the Navy ground tested the main engine of the Vanguard rocket in the rain last night. The results were happy.

Pleased workers on the big Martin-built satellite launching vehicle reported that the whole enterprise "looked good."

This was not an official accounting of the rocket test. Officially, the Defense Department in a statement issued an hour and a half after the firing said only, "There was a routine static test of a missile."

The average time between a final missile static test here and a launching attempt is about 10 days.

Although the main purpose of the launching will be flight test the full rocket assembly for the first time, the Vanguard as a bonus will carry a 6.4-inch satellite in its nose.

Pearson Due

Liberal Party

OTTAWA — Canada's Liberal party is expected to wind up its national convention tonight by electing former Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson as its new leader and endorsing his program of "peace and prosperity."

Paul Martin, 54-year-old ex-minister of health, was still in the race but Pearson was a strong favorite to take over party leadership from 75-year-old Louis St. Laurent, who has headed the Liberals since 1948.

Last Passenger
Boat To Be Sold

CINCINNATI — The Delta Queen, last overnight passenger boat on the Ohio River, is for sale.

Mrs. Letha G. Greene, president of Greene Line Steamers, Inc., said today the famed boat was put up for sale early this week. She said a decline in interest among passengers and increasing operational costs made the move necessary.

Also Urges

- (Continued from Page 1)
1. Legislation giving the secretary of agriculture discretion to increase acreage planting allotments for wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts up to 50 percent above levels now provided by legal formulas. Such increases would be made only if there were potential markets for the larger output. They would be coupled with lower price supports.
  2. Legislation eliminating acreage allotments for corn. This would put corn on the same basis as other livestock feed grains.
  3. Repeal the escalator clauses of present price support laws requiring that supports for wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts be increased when supplies decline.
  4. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said these clauses would increase supports when present tobacco and dairy products at 60 percent of parity. The present range is 75 to 90. billion dollars, in annual rate, below August's all-time high.

Most of the decline resulted from smaller than usual year-end dividends, reflecting corporate caution and some squeeze on profits. But about 750 million dollars of the drop represented reduced wage and salary payments.

2. Industrial production sagged in December to the lowest level since July 1956, when a nationwide steel strike hobbled output.

The Federal Reserve index of physical output from mines and factories dipped three points, in the month to 136 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Auto assemblies declined 10 per cent and steel mills further slowed their operations to a rate of 40 per cent below a year ago.

These reports followed by a day the December employment figures, which revealed that joblessness rose by 200,000 to 3,374,000. This was the highest unemployment for any December since the recession year 1949.

Hoffa's Aide
Almost Loses
Union Ballot

ST. LOUIS — An insurgent faction of St. Louis Teamsters came within five votes last night of halting down Harold J. Gibbons, a vice president-elect of the international union and right-hand man of James R. Hoffa.

Rivals contended seven of his votes were phoney and said they would seek to upset the outcome in the courts.

The contest came in an election of officers for Teamsters' Joint Council 13, made up of 21 locals embracing about 41,000 members in the St. Louis area. Insurgents won two of the four offices at stake.

Gibbons was a candidate for president of the council, a job he has held by appointment of the international since it put the St. Louis unit into trusteeship in 1953. It was his first test of strength among the rank and file.

Small Bird Grounds
Big Airlines' Plane

NEW YORK — One small bird—possibly a seagull—grounded a big four-engine American Airlines plane for six hours yesterday.

The bird bounced off the No. 1 propeller and went into the engine's airtake. It didn't affect the engine performance but, to be on the safe side, the pilot returned to the airport for a complete check of the plane.

WASHINGTON (U)—Dairy farmers, milk dealers and their congressional representatives joined in a plea to the agriculture department yesterday to continue regulating minimum milk prices to farmers in the Philadelphia milk marketing area.

Suspension of price setting would mean economic chaos for dairymen in Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, the Agriculture Department was told.

Testimony of more than a score of witnesses was heard by department examiner Osmond Hyde at a day-long meeting on the question of whether to discontinue price setting in the Philadelphia area.

The department has been doubtful of the effectiveness of federal price setting in view of the fact that the Pennsylvania State Milk Control Board also sets minimum prices to farmers for milk sold in Philadelphia.

The department earlier had ordered suspension of price setting for Philadelphia but rescinded this order to hear views of the industry.

The consensus at the meeting was that State established prices being applicable only in Pennsylvania would not protect dairymen in the surrounding states shipping milk into Philadelphia. Milk dealers thus would cut prices to these farmers in neighboring states and Pennsylvania dairymen would be faced with cutthroat competition, it was contended.

Submitted for the record was a letter to Agriculture Secretary Benson asking continuance of federal price setting. It was signed by Sens. Martin (R-Pa), Smith (R-NJ), Case (R-NJ), Butler (R-Md) and Beall (R-Md), 12 Pennsylvania congressmen, two from Maryland and one from Delaware.

Sens. Frear (D) and Williams (R) of Delaware joined in an appeal to Benson to maintain the price setting system.

The congressmen contended that the problem of cooperation has been federal and state milk agencies should be ironed out without injury to the dairy farmer.

Big Money

FEW AMERICANS would have dreamed that in 1958, nearly 13 years after World War II, a U. S. government would be proposing a peacetime budget roughly three-quarters of the size of the biggest wartime budget. In 1945 a 100-billion-dollar budget seemed a fantastic but necessary circumstance of life. It provided the financial muscle that supported a 12-million-man armed force, the output of thousands upon thousands of tanks and guns and a production rate of almost 100,000 planes a year, and billions in materials for our allies. A 74-billion-dollar budget in peacetime obviously cannot be explained by surveying the normal demands of peace, even in a vastly inflated economy such as ours. The truth, known to all of us for some years but hitting us with fuller force at this turn in history, is that we are fighting a war without war. We are engaged in an unrelenting struggle with the Soviet Union, an all-encompassing test of power which sweeps to all corners of the earth and of life, and now threatens to move beyond the globe to outer space.

THE BUDGET President Eisenhower presents for the year starting July 1 is probably the boldest recognition yet offered of the tremendous scope of this conflict. Of its total suggested outlay, 64 per cent is taken up by major national security costs, including foreign aid. That recognition has come because of Russia's astonishing leap into the satellite-missile lead. The budget reflects Mr. Eisenhower's determination—and the nation's—to get back on top and thus safeguard freedom for ourselves and all others who prize it. The requested 2.5-billion-dollar increase in defense and closely related outlays will appear insufficient to some, and already forecasts abound that Congress is more likely to add further funds than to pare down. In the crucial missile field, the President proposes to spend 5.3 billion dollars, four and a half times the 1955 outlay. Military research and development spending, an area in which America has been found wanting, is hiked 700 million dollars to 2.2 billion.

THERE IS MORE for nuclear work, and for ships, especially missile-firing submarines. One big feature is the President's bid for a 500-million-dollar contingency fund, and authority to shift some two billion of the 40 billion defense fund as he sees fit, to capitalize on any scientific breakthroughs in missiles, satellites or related fields. Even with such blanket requests, he may not have much trouble. The big question Congress will ask on defense is: "Is it enough?" On top of all this, Mr. Eisenhower wants money for scientific education and foreign aid. As with defense, Congress probably will be generous-handed on science schooling. But it will surely cast its customary dubious eye on suggested increases in foreign spending. Only the easiest optimists think the administration will really show the 500-million-dollar surplus it predicts for the coming year. But whether the prospect is surplus or deficit, the lawmakers are expected to vote the big money. They know we need a big launching platform if we are to catapult our missiles and satellites into the long lead that will be decisive for free men.

Will To Go On

ALMOST everyone is likely to conclude, from time to time, that his burden of troubles and frustrations is too much to bear. Most of us get over such feelings, but while they last the mood is a black one. At such times, it is helpful to think of someone who has overcome a handicap that makes ordinary troubles seem scarcely worth mentioning. It is an exercise in perspective. Consider the case of a surgeon, recently interviewed by a large newspaper, who once found himself severely crippled by removal of a spinal tumor. The operation left him with his right arm paralyzed. It would have been easy to give up, to accept the apparently obvious conclusion that going on as surgeon would be impossible. The surgeon did not give up, however. In co-operation with a mechanic and an orthopedic surgeon, he devised a brace and spring arrangement which enabled him to go on working. His story is one to remember when the obstacles erected by life seem insurmountable.

Public Reaction To Budget Plan Awaited

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower space age budget is too big for most Republicans and such ultra-conservative Democrats as Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. It is not big enough for most Democrats and for the Eastern internationalists of both parties whose views are expressed in the still top-secret Gaither report and the published Rockefeller report. In various ways, too, which are clear to the experienced members of Congress, the new budget is shot with politics. There is the President's claim that it is balanced which rests upon transparently flimsy assumptions. The device here is to lay the basis for insisting that the Democratic Congress unbalanced it.

THERE cannot be any real expectation in the White House that an election-year Congress, with all members of the House and one-third of the Senate up, will meekly enact five-cent postage and stand like granite for economies in farmer benefits, veterans' pensions, public assistance grants, slum clearance, reclamation and such projects.

Even if Congress sprouted wings—an unlikely prospect—the Administration view that a business recovery will provide enough revenue to balance the budget is challenged by nearly all economists. The President has thus lost the moral advantage he might have gained by being realistic about the impact of the space age on his cherished concept of a balanced budget. He could never make cost-cutting or new taxes popular, but he might have made them a moral issue.

THE PROSPECT instead is for a down-the-line struggle which will include defense. Within the past few days members unwilling to accept the President's military judgment have been enormously heartened by the Rockefeller report and the testimony of Nelson Rockefeller.

It is not that they think Rockefeller and his influential associates have necessarily come up with the right answers. Several experienced Senators think, for example, that the group made a mistake in getting into the controversy over the command system of the services instead of concentrating on the broad task of whipping up the country's realization of its peril.

WHAT Senators do feel is that it is not that they think Rockefeller and his influential associates have necessarily come up with the right answers. Several experienced Senators think, for example, that the group made a mistake in getting into the controversy over the command system of the services instead of concentrating on the broad task of whipping up the country's realization of its peril.

History From The Times Files

TEN YEARS AGO
January 16, 1948

Garrett County Commissioners fixed county tax rate at $2 per each $100 of assessable property, a decrease of 10 cents over previous year.

Death of Mrs. Alice Willson, 75, Fayette Street, pioneer worker and organizer of Women's Christian Temperance Union in Allegany County; John W. Smith, Rich Avenue.

William C. Walsh, city, named to state fuel advisory committee.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
January 16, 1938

J. Richard Baker renamed president of Allegany Trades Council.

Over 600 employees recalled to work at Celanese plant; more than 5,000 remained idle.

Death of Earl F. Parker, 29, city.

Statistics showed Allegany County Welfare Board spent $32,

727.61 for relief purposes during December.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
January 16, 1928

Jesse Diehl, 78, city, killed when he stepped into path of B&O train; dead.

William Marshall, Lonaconing, recommended for appointment as postmaster there.

Fred W. Bock, formerly associated with Fort Cumberland Hotel, took over management of Boulevard Hotel.

FORTY YEARS AGO
January 16, 1918

Damaged by fire, Calvary Methodist Church in Ridgeley was to be rebuilt.

Cumberland Fruit Exchange elected H. W. Miller, Paw Paw, president; J. C. McKeown, secretary.

John Kyle, local B&O trainman, seriously injured by locomotive in yards here.

Rockefeller and those associated with his views have removed any partisan stigma from the defense controversy. If these men, chiefly Republicans drawn from business, are willing to say that the program should be boosted still another $21 billion in the next four years—as they have—the politicians figure that the light has switched to green for Congress.

The Gaither report is said to put an even higher price tag on survival, as it includes both missile and anti-missile programs.

THE BUDGET press conferences this year at the Budget Bureau, the Treasury and the Pentagon did not develop any dramatic controversy like former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey's "haircutting" warnings against spending last year. Apparently the family circle contains no rebels now.

How the public feels at this point should soon appear. The White House reports a favorable response to the State of the Union message; members of Congress say they have not seen its reflection yet in their mail.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — Eddie Maston is a thread-slim, tight-skinned, cool of a man who is what New Yorkers in their argot call a "Westrun." The way some people in the South speak of someone being "Southern." Some even cut it down to "Southron." Take your choice.

Maston is Utah, cattle, howlers and one of the few North American men who can walk without entanglement while wearing the kind of spurs the gauchos wear in the Pampas.

He lives in New York on a bounty considerably set aside for him by a deceased uncle and he is up to his ears in Western matters. All kinds. He can tell you about brands, what makes the best ropes, how to break in a new lariat and the kind of shoe a horse should wear in west Texas.

EDDIE CAME in the other night and we watched the TV premiere of a movie about four years old, maybe five: "High Noon." We had a jug of cloudy cider and a bowl of stick pretzels and we watched it from stem to stern, commercials included. I long ago had told Eddie that this "Stagecoach" were the two best Western films ever made by anyone anywhere and he confessed he had never been able to catch up with it. So he came by to see it on TV.

IT OPENED and Eddie watched the three bad men slowly gather as the credit titles unwound.

"I like the ride that second one there gives," said Eddie. "A saddle man from 'way back. The other two wear the rig right and their guns hang good, but they don't look like real riders to me. More like movie cowboys. I think you'll see them bunch up if they ride together."

They bunched up in scenes as they rode through the little town at the beginning of the picture. Twice they bunched up. When they got off their horses, Eddie chuckled.

"I had it right," he said. "They got off like wrestlers, not riders."

It was his only criticism of the desperadoes.

"THEY WALK it right," he said, as he watched them in the railway station scenes. "The flat flanks and thighs, tight seats, the weight of guns slung low from hip-held belts. They got the walk

Takes Money To Make Money

WASHINGTON — Our record-breaking budget is a tan-colored book weighing nearly four pounds, containing 1,024 pages and selling for $5.50 per copy. I doubt if it's a best-seller. Too scary.

The way this book slathers the dollars around—nearly 74 billion of them—is enough to frighten a taxpayer and make him wonder if he'll ever catch up. I know about this because I've spent most of the day reading the budget, and red spots, with dollar signs, are swimming before my eyes. This is what I mean:

Wages for clerks? I used Vice-President Richard M. Nixon will cost $101,925. His limousine will come to $7,600. Repairing the furniture for Congressmen (those gents surely must be rough) will be $231,800.

AN INNOCENT-looking little item under the State Department entitled "Representation Allowances" is boosted from $600,000 to $1,000,000. This is known to the dregs in Congress as the booze allowance.

The idea is that it is used for parties by our diplomats to keep up with the international Joneses. There is good reason for such expenditures, but some of our dry lawgivers don't think so. I doubt if the diplomats get a million, or anywhere near, for convivial purposes.

The mint wants $5,109,000 to manufacture money, including a billion and a half pennies at 71 cents per thousand, or $1,013,200. The Treasury Department needs $175,000 to liquidate the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which I somehow thought had disappeared long ago. The cost of collecting the taxes that pay the bills will be $325,500,000.

THE SECRET Service will spend $865,000 guarding the White House. It calculates that in 1959 it will have to investigate 2,000 cases of counterfeiting. For a new House office building, the bill comes to $22,500,000.

Last year the appropriation for this structure, now a large hole in the ground, was $7,500,000. I know one Congressman, Representative H. R. Gross—he was ousted—who insists the House of Representatives needs a third office building like a hole in the head.

CARE OF THE botanic gardens, which among other things furnish potted ferns for Congressional functions, is listed at $383,500. Moving the greenhouse will amount to $387,000.

Upkeep of the Supreme Court building, including snow removal, is estimated at $317,000. The Chief Justice's motor car will cost $5,835. Care of the White House (snow removal isn't mentioned, but the electric bill is) comes to $410,000.

It will cost $23,000,000 for the Selective Service System to send numerous young men its greetings.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—"The 20th century woman is supposed to have everything," said author Leonard Levinson, "but in one way she has been cheated."

"The 18th century woman had something the modern woman knows about only through hearsay—and that is Casanova. If the 20th century has produced a lover to match him, he is still anonymous."

Levinson, who has just edited a one-volume condensation of Jacques Casanova's famous memoirs, is convinced that to compare any of today's international gigolos or millionaire playboys to the great Venetian is like comparing a painted rosebud to a rainbow.

"History has been most unfair to Casanova," he said. "Many people think he was either a fictional character or an awful big liar. But the more we check his story the more we find he told the truth."

LEVINSON, who has compiled a list of 154 romantic affairs by Casanova, thinks it is unfair to write him off as a wolf or a mere lecher who preyed on defenseless womanhood.

"Actually, there have been few men in history more the victim of women," he said stoutly.

"He was a man eternally in love with love. When he swore undying love, he meant it—at the time. He could look across a room at a woman and fall instantly in love with her. He did have a low boiling point."

"He would then abandon whatever project he was on and begin to court her. He would buy a house and hire servants and throw a big party—merely to meet her. He would shower her with the most expensive of gifts. He was no penny-ante lover."

"If she happened to be married, he would arrange to do her husband a great favor to win his friendship."

"He did love them and leave them, as the saying goes. But that was because he loved one thing more even than he did woman—and that was his freedom."

"But he always left them happy. Casanova could always go back to the ladies he had loved in the past, even a dozen years later, and—what?—they were in love all over again. Sometimes they would introduce him to their children who, on occasion, bore a marked resemblance to him."

CASANOVA was no matinee idol in looks. He was tall, dark, strong, hawk-eyed, hawk-nosed.

"He was a man of all-around talent, the king of opportunists," said Levinson. "He was a self-made aristocrat."

"During his life he was a preacher, an abbe, an actor, a poet, playwright, novelist, gambler, diplomat, jailbird, scientist, traveler, mining expert, doctor, lawyer, violinist, mathematician, mystic and espionage agent."

"He also fought and won 12 duels."

"What happened to him? Well, at 60 he was pretty well done with romance. The last dozen years of his life he was a librarian for Count Waldstein at his castle at Dux in Bohemia."

"He died in bed at 73. The cause of death? Prostate trouble."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — The proposal of Rep. Charles B. Brownson (Republican, Indiana) to end all rivalry in the armed services by promoting every person in the Army, Navy, and Air Force to four-star general is being studied by the House subcommittee on harassment in the executive branch of the Federal government, more familiarly known as the Heep Committee.

The subcommittee Chairman, Rep. Uriah Heep (Whig, Athabasca Territory) refused to confirm or deny reports that the Brownson plan would be given top or bottom priority. But Rep. John Casanova (Conformist, Amour, Pa.) who asked that his name be withheld, implied strongly that, whichever is finally decided upon, it will be on a "crash" basis.

Rumors that congressional jurisdiction would be claimed by the House Subcommittee on Missiles, Missives, and Misgivings were set at rest by the Chairman, Rep. Jayne Mansfield (Democratic, very). At a late hour last night the rumors were still resting comfortably, and attending physicians issued the optimistic bulletin that if there was any change it would be for the worse.

REP. BROWNSON outlined his proposal as follows: "Mr. Speaker: he was addressing Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, not Tris Speaker, the old Boston Red Sox center-fielder." "Events of the last week have suggested one obvious course of action which has not yet received full consideration. "Surely in a time of planned panic we must consider every possible reform in the Department of Defense. This crash proposal, in which I have no pride of authorship, is simple, quick and sure. It will necessitate legislation which would simultaneously promote every member of the Army, Navy, and Air Force on active duty to the grade rank, and pay of a full, four-star general."

"This will immediately produce peace in the Pentagon. There will be no more inter-service rivalry because every man will have achieved his goal. . . . Top money and top grade. For the first time every single member of the military will be free to concentrate entirely on the goal of strengthening our country without worrying about his date of rank."

THE BROWNSON Plan, as it is now called to distinguish it from the Marshall Plan, the Five-Year Plan, and the Morris Plan, was first referred to the special committee on whatever became of General Gavin, headed by Martin Kane (private, eye). But a special legislative ruling concurred in by the absence of a quorum, Justice Holmes dissenting, transferred it to the Joint Special Subcommittee to investigate whether Rep. Brownson was serious, more generally referred to as the Committee of One Hundred, after its five members.

If the Brownson proposal is translated into law, a possibility which many Capitol Hill observers view as well within the parliamentary purview, it should go far toward mitigating a condition that many of our legislative leaders, particularly those on the powerful District of Columbia, Foreign Affairs and Fisheries Committee.

That is the situation in a nutshell. The only opposition to the Brownson proposal anticipated in informed quarters is from the five-star generals.

They may not care to be demoted

Maryland Maritime Interests Against Lower Bay Project

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A score of officials representing government and maritime interests present their views on a projected 17 mile bridge-tunnel crossing of Lower Chesapeake Bay in a public hearing here today.

The Army Corps of Engineers at Norfolk said yesterday two Virginia congressmen, Reps. Porter Hardy of the 2nd District and E.J. Robeson, Jr. of the 1st District, had served notice they would appear.

The engineers said debate at the hearing will be limited solely to the matter of navigation, and to the question as to whether the proposed span would present any obstacles to shipping interests.

In the hands of the engineers is the Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission application for a permit to build the span linking Kiptopeke in Northampton County on Virginia's Eastern Shore with Cape Henry on the south side of Hampton Roads.

Maryland maritime interests will offer their objections to the proposed 1,700-foot clearance in the span over the ship channel to Baltimore. These interests claim this is not enough room over the vital waterway. They favor 4,000 feet of passageway for ships.

Just this week a commission spokesman said test borings along the projected route were proceeding on schedule, despite some recent bad weather. The multimillion dollar crossing would be undertaken as a toll revenue project.

Palbearers will be John Park, Robert W. Young, Carl Amtover, John Moore, and Howard and Paul Hansel.

Joint Services
OAKLAND — A joint funeral service for Emory D. Bolden, 58, and his sister, Mrs. Prema (Bolton) Brown, 63, who died within nine hours of each other, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Bolden Funeral Home.

Rev. Charles Carlson, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, will officiate and burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

Mr. Bolden, operator of the Bolden Funeral Home, died suddenly Tuesday night in Bayard, W. Va., after being stricken with a heart attack.

Members of the family said they believed the heart attack suffered by Mrs. Brown brought on by her brother's sudden death.

Both were natives of Oakland and their parents were the late, Decorsey and Sarah (Roth) Bolden. Mrs. Brown's husband, Carl Brown, preceded her in death.

Mr. Bolden served as chief of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company for the past 30 years. He was a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland Rotary Club, Knights of Pythias and the Oakland Moose Lodge.

W. Va. Health Funds Given Critical View

Federal Report Poses Question Of Per Capita Amount

CHARLESTON (AP) — A federal report on the State Health Department and its operations posed the question of why West Virginia does not contribute as much per capita to the health of its people as neighboring states.

The report was made by representatives of the U.S. Public Health Service, Region III headquarters.

"It is difficult for any unbiased observer," the report commented, "to reconcile why West Virginia, with a per capita income higher than either Kentucky or North Carolina, is unable to contribute as much per capita for public health."

"Maryland and Virginia have a higher per capita income than West Virginia, but not double, which is a rough approximation of their per capita expenditure for public health."

West Virginia ranked at the bottom of a five-state area in expenditures relative to population, the report said. The state spent $1.14 annually for public health — compared with $1.67 in Kentucky, $1.94 in North Carolina, $2.72 in Virginia and $3 in Maryland.

The report was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the State Board of Health.

West Virginia scored lowest not only in per capita expenditure but in meeting up to criteria set by the American Public Health Association.

These criteria have to do with the ratio of public health personnel to the general population. Throughout the nation, 88 per cent of all people are served by local health departments, the report said, but in West Virginia the figure is 38 per cent.

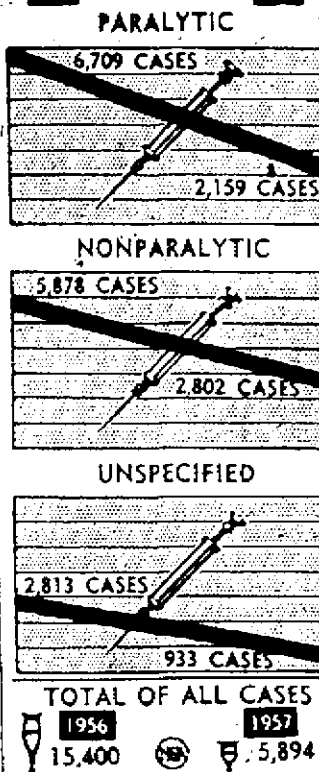

The report concluded that the shortage of public health services at the local level was "appalling."

Bids Being Sought
On Library Ceiling
The Board of Commissioners of Allegany County will receive sealed bids for the installation of an acoustical ceiling in the reading room of the Cumberland Free Public Library until 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, February 4.

The work was requested by Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, who pointed out that the property belongs to the board of county commissioners.

The white pelican is one of the largest American birds. Its wingspread reaches nine feet.

THE DRAMATIC DECLINE OF POLIO

DOWN WITH POLIO! — If you've done your bit in contributing to the fight against polio, you'll get a bang out of those descending heavy lines in Newschart above. And these figures: 62 per cent less polio in 1957 than in 1956. The dread paralytic type down 73 per cent from 1956. Although U.S. Public Health Service, which released the data, didn't say so, the inference is that the great defeat of this crippling disease was the result of polio vaccine protection. But — USPHS points out, 16,000,000 Americans under 20 and 30,000,000 others, aged 20 to 40, have not had any shots.

Youth Rally Set
Saturday Night
Earl W. Shultz Jr., Hampstead, director of Youth for Christ in Maryland, will speak at a rally on Saturday at 7:45 p.m. in the Salvation Army Citadel.

Shultz has directed the Hampstead Youth for Christ since it was organized 11 years ago and last year was named rally director of the year. He has held the state post for a year.

His father, Earl W. Shultz Sr., is the Maryland president of the Gideons.

The rally will include music by Mrs. Shultz, soprano soloist, and Eunice and Lois Allen, presenters of selections on musical cowbells.

A Bible quiz will be conducted, more than one in each 20 American was unemployed in December. It placed the exact figure at 5.2 per cent of the labor force.

Other federal statistics showed that as of Dec. 14, West Virginia's jobless totaled 5.3 per cent of its labor force. High in the nation at that time was Oregon, with 9.3 per cent.

Ash based his forecast of January payments at a level unequalled since the $2,492,592 benefit total in January of 1955 on checks issued for $638,030 during last week alone.

The comparable figure a year ago was $216,254, or lower by 195 per cent. Last week's figure, however, and the 1956 comparison, included some payments other than week alone.

Continued claims, those which are renewed each two weeks for a period which can run as long as 24 weeks, totaled 18,667 in the seven days ended Jan. 11.

Ash said that the total of 27,401 for all claims received last week was up 104.4 per cent, or 13,993, from the corresponding time in 1956.

"As near as we can estimate, and taking into account those continued claims in which new filings will show up in this week, we have a total load right now of about 39,000 claims," Ash said.

Reflecting layoffs in the coal and steel industries, he continued, "the real trouble began late in September, and the increase generally has been a steady one since."

A department chart showed a claims filed total of about 18,000 for the week ended Dec. 21. The figure dropped off somewhat in the following week when the Christmas period curtailed district office hours, then climbed again.

The state's jobless benefits went up to about $3,824,000 in April of 1954, when the state was in the throes of a recession in its widespread coal fields. They dropped back to $341,771 in November of 1955.

Except for August of 1956, the benefits from the state compensation fund ranged from about $500,000 to slightly over one million dollars until the sudden jump of $696,251 in one month to December's $1,724,234.

Payments of $1,246,815 in August, of 1956 reflected the secondary effects of a steel strike, with many of those filing claims representing persons employed in coal mines owned by steel companies or other related fields.

The Federal Government reported in Washington this week that more than one in each 20 American

W. Va. Jobless List Nears 1954-55 High

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's unemployment compensation payments, generally reflecting a nationwide increase in ranks of the jobless, were headed today toward their highest levels since the winter of 1954-55.

Director Henry L. Ash of the State Employment Security Department forecast payments of benefits amounting to about 2½ million dollars in January.

Net benefits paid in December under the state's unemployment compensation statutes totaled $1,724,234. They were $696,251, or 67.7 per cent, above November and 185.9 per cent, or $1,121,084, above December, 1956.

Department figures showed a total of 8,734 initial compensation claims filed in 24 local offices around the state in the week ended Jan. 11. That compared with 6,360 the previous week, and 3,890 a year earlier.

Continued claims, those which are renewed each two weeks for a period which can run as long as 24 weeks, totaled 18,667 in the seven days ended Jan. 11.

Ash said that the total of 27,401 for all claims received last week was up 104.4 per cent, or 13,993, from the corresponding time in 1956.

NEW YORK (INS) — Both Great Northern and Nickel Plate could move higher on any further improvement in the market, Arthur W. Bullock of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis declares. He also advances Kansas City Southern as a rail to be considered.

Toledo Edison 1957 net will be about $1.01 a share, same as reported in the previous year.

Ryan Aeronautical earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 should show income well above the $1,250,000 of the previous fiscal year, although not enough to offset the 20 per cent increase in common shares. Net in the previous year was $3.36 a share.

Virginia Electric & Power net for the year just closed should be about $1.50 vs. $1.39 in the previous year.

W. Va. Lawmakers Confused Over Hiking Taxes For Public School Aid

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON (P) — After a closer second look at Gov. Underwood's call for the current session of the Legislature, some lawmakers are wondering how much latitude they have in voting more tax money for public schools.

The governor's call listed 20 items in addition to the budget bill for consideration at the 30-day session which began eight days ago. The only item on public schools read:

"Legislation to provide incentives to encourage the counties to raise additional funds for the support of free schools."

In view of that language, may the Legislature vote new or increased taxes to falter the existing program of state aid to the county school systems?

Or, must any such tax measures be limited to implementing one of the proposed incentive plans to stimulate greater financial effort for schools at the county level?

One place these questions have been raised is in a special committee of five House Democrats, appointed to try to develop a revenue program for roads and schools in place of the $2-million-dollar program advocated by Underwood.

The committee has received informal advice from the Attorney General's Office that the language of the call would limit any new or increased taxes for schools to use in some sort of incentive program to encourage local effort.

Some legislators say such an interpretation would rule out (1) three million of the 15 million dollars a year in new tax money for public schools sought by Underwood and State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough, and (2) about state aid formula.

seven million out of the 15-million-dollar program advocated by the West Virginia Education Assn.

Either program would pour part of the proposed outlay into the existing state aid program and earmark the rest for a new incentive plan rewarding counties from state funds for raising money locally through certain self-help financing steps.

Underwood and Rohrbough would put 12 million in Rohrbough's proposed incentive program and distribute the remaining three million as a cost-of-living adjustment under the present

The WVEA, which introduced its bills yesterday, would add seven million to the present state aid program and earmark eight million for an incentive plan.

The portion of both programs that is placed in doubt by the language of the call is the money that would go into the existing aid program. To raise the 15 million dollars a year that would be required for the over-all program, Underwood has proposed a 1 per cent tax on gross personal incomes over $2,000.

The special committee of House Democrats, which includes Speak-

Damage Action Filed

J. Milton Dick, Potomac Park, is suing a Frostburg motorist for $25,000 as the result of injuries he suffered about two years ago in a two-car crash on Greene Street.

The declaration was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court against Jack Lewis Rase, 21 Lee Street, Frostburg, by Paul M. Fletcher, attorney for Mr. Dick.

Procedure On Restaurant Plan Outlined

Health Department rules for eating and drinking establishments were explained to some 60 owners and operators in the county at a meeting here last night.

John Meadows, chief of the restaurant program of the State Health Department, was the principal speaker at the meeting held in the Union Street county building.

The Health Department has supervised some 200 eating and drinking establishments in Cumberland and this year is extending the program to include an estimated 150 establishments in the county.

Presiding at the kickoff meeting was J. Byron Dowling, Health Department sanitarian, who explained plans for the expanded program.

Plans were also outlined for mailing applications for permits, which will be issued on a temporary basis pending compliance with new regulations which went into effect last July 1.

Library Plan Workshops Set In Area

Committee To Air Advantages Under Extension Service

A series of library workshops will be held next week to help acquaint people with the advantages of establishing a library system for Allegany County.

Miss Helen M. Clark, director of library extension for the State Department of Education, will conduct the workshops with the assistance of officers and members of the Allegany County Library Committee. Dr. Adam Baer of Frostburg is chairman of the committee, and Dr. Lillian Compton of Cumberland, co-chairman.

On Monday, Miss Clark will be a speaker at the Frostburg Rotary Club dinner in Zion Reformed Church. G. Franklin Martens, a trustee of the Frostburg library, will be chairman.

On Tuesday, at 1:30 p. m. the second in the workshop series will be held at Central Elementary School, Lonaconing. This will be a joint meeting for the parent-teacher associations of Lonaconing, Midland and Barton and for all other interested persons. Mrs. Hilda Phillips and Rev. E. Ellwood Carey, pastor of Barton Presbyterian Church, will be in charge and Miss Clark will speak.

At 7:30 p. m. the same day, a workshop will be held for the Westernport, McCoole and Luke areas at the Westernport Library. Mrs. Paul McCoy will be in charge.

On Wednesday at 9:45 a. m., a workshop for the Cumberland area will be held at Northeast Elementary School, Bowman's Addition. Principal Raymond Skidmore will be in charge. He has extended an invitation to all Cumberland area PTA groups to send representatives.

Dr. Baer points out that Allegany County is one of the few in Maryland which has not taken advantage of the county library program which would make the county eligible for federal and state funds.

Libraries in Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport have been maintained almost entirely by local public and private funds.

Under the laws of Maryland relating to public libraries there is established a central library agency as a division in the State Department of Education, known as the Division of Library Extension. The purpose is to make library service available to all residents of Maryland.

Under this law, county commissioners are empowered to establish and maintain public libraries, and where such service is established, the county commissioners levy two cents on each $100 of assessable property for library service. If this is done here, the state will appropriate $14,329 and the federal government will appropriate $20,000 in federal funds.

Dr. Baer points out that if the county commissioners will make this levy, thus raising about $31,000, the county will gain in state and federal funds a total of $34,329. Under such a plan, the county gets more than half of the total cost of library operation from state and federal sources.

This additional money would make possible the establishment of a bookmobile and would bring to all communities the same library service that is now available only in the larger areas.

Fifteen of Maryland's 23 counties are now a part of this new system and have established county libraries, Dr. Baer noted. Allegany and Frederick counties are the only Western Maryland counties not participating.

In the category of other benefits were checks to veterans under a federal readjustment act, and to federal employees now without jobs. The 27,401 claims total for last week included 1,220 in that category.

Ash expressed a belief that heavy unemployment would continue at least for the first three months of this year. It already has been necessary for his department to add personnel to handle the claims load.

The agency's administrative budget is met entirely from federal funds allocated by the U. S. Department of Labor's bureau of employment security on a basis of the claims burden.

Ash said the budget for the current fiscal year was set at about $1,800,000, and that an increase of $125,000 had been provided for the current quarter. Most additional employees are for the field offices.

1,500 Enjoy Pancakes At Armory Here

Approximately 1,500 persons attended the Pancake Day program last night at the State Armory, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce.

Miss Sandra Tasker, 21, of 429 Beall Street, was crowned Cinderella Pancake I. The winner was presented an award of $100 by Glen Brant, chairman of the contest.

A clerk-typist at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant, Miss Tasker is a member of the Junior Woman's Civic Club, and likes dancing.

Another event in a light vein was a pancake eating contest which was won by Vincent Green, city, who consumed 35 pancakes. His closest rival was Fred Traber, who managed to eat 28.

About 10 persons entered the contest under the chairmanship of Robert Garner.

Green was presented a $10 gift certificate. Aunt Jemima entertained those who came to the Armory to enjoy the pancakes.

The Jaycees plan to make the event an annual affair, with proceeds of the project used for civic and youth activities of the organization. Frank Deremer was general chairman for the project.

Cumberland Branch Workshop For Blind Is In Full Operation

The local branch of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind is in operation at 115 Milton Place, according to State Senator Charles M. See.

Senator See, who is a field representative of the workshop and one of its trustees, is serving as manager of the branch which was set up recently to serve the blind in Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties.

Kermit B. VanPelt, Valley Road, has been named shop foreman and instructor for the workshop, and is engaged in teaching, recaning and rush weaving crafts to the first three blind trainees.

See said the work is being done for the public for fees based on the number of holes to be recaned or by the inch.

He added that officials of the branch office believe the shop will offer a useful service to the area and that there is a great backlog of work to be done here, especially on antique furniture.

Mops will be added to the projects of the branch workshop, Sen. See said, as soon as machinery and supplies are delivered.

The first floor of the building is being used as a workshop which will be expanded as citizens of the area make use of its services and products.

The second floor is being used for offices, and houses the area field office of the workshop, which Sen. See heads, and office (Continued on Page 16)

Father Of 16 Dies In Highway Crash

A local father of 16 children, 15 living at home, was crushed to death this morning by a 10-ton coal truck on U. S. Route 40, eight miles west of Frostburg in Garrett County.

Tfc. Donald Wade of the Maryland State Police, who investigated the two-truck accident, said the victim was Walter Younger, 58, husband of Mrs. Elizabeth (Smith) Younger of 1014 Rolling Mill Alley, this city.

Meeting To Close Chest Set Tonight

Organization Raised One And One-Half Million In 31 Years

After 31 years of service, the Cumberland Community Chest will be dissolved at the 31st annual meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in Central YMCA.

It was in the summer of 1925 that a committee got together to discuss the idea of having a survey made of local welfare agencies.

The Harrisburg, Pa., Welfare Federation had been contacted, and it was agreed to have their executive secretary make a preliminary survey in Cumberland.

Agency Survey Made

The cost of $600 was underwritten by the Cumberland Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and the Chamber of Commerce.

Only two of the five original members of this committee are living. They are Harold W. Smith and Franklin H. Ankeney. The other three were Dr. E. B. Claybrook, Thomas L. Pierce and George G. Young.

The Harrisburg professional man's survey noted that the time was ripe for a welfare federation or community chest in Cumberland.

Subsequent meetings were held and on April 1, 1926 the Cumberland Welfare Federation (later to become the Cumberland Community Chest) came into being.

Quota Exceeded

The initial fund drive raised $39,115 exceeding its quota of $31,000.

Until the organization of the County United Fund Inc., its successor, the Community Chest raised a grand total of $1,538,491.59.

The first campaign chairman was Albert C. Grant while the women's or residential division was headed by Mrs. R. R. Henderson, mother of Chief Judge George Henderson. Mrs. Henderson went down in Community Chest history as having been residential division chairman for the most campaigns, nine times.

The first president of the chest was Fulcher P. Smith.

The initial member agencies of the federation were Salvation Army, Associated Charities, Allegheny Hospital, Baby Welfare, Travelers Aid, Jewish Welfare, Red Cross, and YMCA.

Budget Details

The first budget called for $12,000 for Salvation Army; $9,000 for Associated Charities; $5,000 for Allegheny Hospital; $1,000 for Baby Welfare; $500 for Travelers Aid; $500 for Jewish Welfare; $1,000 for Red Cross, and $1,000 for YMCA.

Fulcher P. Smith served two years as Community Chest President, and he was succeeded by Harold W. Smith who served the longest as the head of the organization.

Smith was president in 1929, 1930, 1931, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, and 1945.

Other presidents were Harvey H. Weiss, 1932 through 1936; H. C. Swearingen, 1946-47; Frederick (Continued on Page 20)

License Tags Received Here

A group of Allegheny County Court House employees spent a busy hour and a half this morning as 1 1/2 tons of auto license plates were unloaded.

A total of 22,000 tags were received from the State Department of Motor Vehicles and stored in a room in the court house basement.

Ernest B. Trealt, county tax collector, said Allegheny County has been given the same identification letters, the series of GA, GB and GC.

They will go on sale when tag applications are received by auto owners from the Department of Motor Vehicles.

That will be in the latter part of February, Treat pointed out.

Already received earlier and stored are 2,000 of the BB series, the tax collector added.

Treat said an additional 1,000 plates has been shipped here over last year's total.

Purim Carnival New Jewish Youth Project

The Jewish Youth of Cumberland voted to undertake the annual Purim Carnival as a new project, at a recent meeting held in the vestry of Beth Jacob Synagogue.

Jeffrey Gelz, president, and Susan Davidson presented reports on the recent national Jewish Youth convention. The program included demonstrations of Israeli songs and dances. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Martin Sigel.

The Youngers, who have 10 children in school, face eviction from their South End home to make room for Cumberland's third housing project and a phase of the Cumberland Thruway.

May Leave State

Last summer the Younger family was informed that their home would be included in the ones to be torn down. Residents of the area appeared before the Mayor and Council in an effort to obtain housing for the family.

A principal of a local school said this morning that the children were greatly concerned and feared they would have to move to West Virginia to obtain housing with their grandmother.

The children range in age from 35 years down to one year, with 10 of them attending school and 15 of the 16 residing with their parents.

The oldest daughter, Mrs. Thomas Beckwith, resides in Baltimore.

Seven of the youngsters, including two sets of twins, attend Virginia Avenue School. They are Angela and Dwight, age 12; Virginia, 11; Leroy, 9; Frances, 8; and Norma and Norman, age seven.

Three of the children have not reached school age. They are Linda, four; Lionel, three; and Deborah, age one.

The others at home are Wilma Jean, 24; Walter Henry, 23; Florence Louise, 16; William Foster, 14; and Mary Elizabeth, 13.

Native Of Virginia

A native of Danville, Va., he was a son of the late Henry and Mary (Flippin) Younger. He was a member of the Metropolitan AME Church and the Young Men's Club of the Church.

Besides his widow and 16 children, he is survived by two brothers, William Younger, of Cleveland, and Norman Younger, of Illinois, and five sisters, Mrs. Jesse McDonald, Mrs. Henry Conney and Mrs. Duke Spencer, all of Keyser; Mrs. Richard Fort, Everettville, W. Va., and Mrs. George Jackson, Chicago.

The body is at the Halper Funeral Home where services will be conducted on Saturday at 3:30 p. m. by Rev. Charles E. Walden. Interment will be in Woodlawn Burial Park.

Auto Mechanic

Mr. Younger is employed as an automobile mechanic and was a passenger in a coal truck when he was killed.

Tfc. Wade said the collision occurred at 7:20 a. m.

Younger was a passenger in a coal truck driven by Earl Milton Steele, 60, of 431 Walnut Street, which collided with a tractor-trailer truck driven by Charles L. Frost, 38, Frostburg, and owned by the Howell Coal Company of Cumberland.

Police said the Steele vehicle was traveling west on the highway and skidded sideways into the rig which was traveling east. Tfc. Wade said it was a head-on collision.

Younger was thrown from the truck and the rear wheels of the vehicle ran over his body. He died instantly.

Crashes Through Rails

Following the crash the rig operated by Frost continued on down the highway, crashed through guard rails and came to rest in a nearby field. Frost was not injured.

The coal truck also continued down the ice-coated roadway and crashed into the guard rails.

Steele was taken by ambulance to Miners Hospital in Frostburg where he was admitted with lacerations of his head and in a state of shock.

The mishap was the first fatal crash in Garrett County this year. Last year seven persons were killed in highway accidents in Garrett County.

Judge Morgan C. Harris ruled the decision of the SIAC in the case of Patrick Shertzer, 56, Potomac Park, was proper, stating that no evidence rebutted the commission's findings.

Shertzer, a former painter, was granted an award of $15,000 for being unable to work at his occupation.

He was represented by Simon F. Reilly and Clarence Lippel, of this city. C. William Gilchrist, of Baltimore, was for the defendant employer, Norman S. Porter, and was served by a committee headed by Martin Sigel.

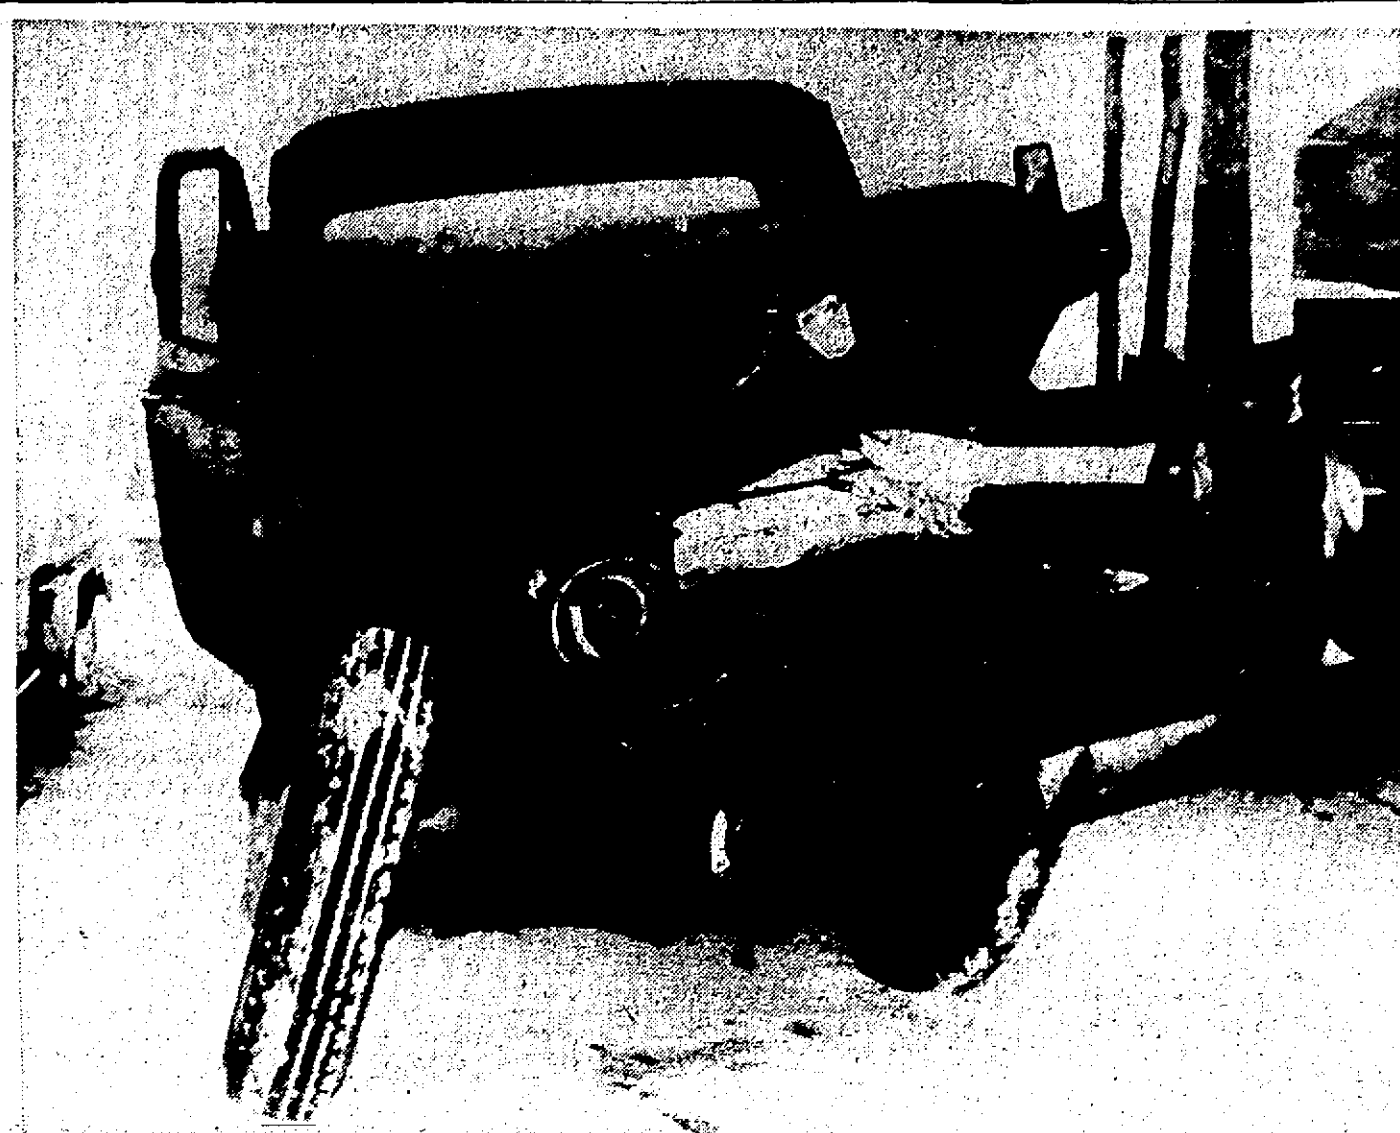

Shertzer, according to testimony introduced this morning, fell on November 2, 1955, 12 feet from a ladder on which he was painting, striking his head. He suffered a brain injury and remained unconscious for 15 days in the hospital. Spinal taps showed the presence of blood in the spinal fluid.

The evidence presented the commission reported that Shertzer suffered dizzy spells, and blurred vision from time to time, and doctors said he showed outward signs of having a brain injury.

It was testified by physicians before the commission and also by a local doctor today that Shertzer, because of his injury, would not be able to pursue his lifetime occupation.

FATAL TRUCK — Above is the coal truck in which Walter Younger, 58, this city, was killed this morning in a two-vehicle collision on U. S. Route 40, eight miles west of Frostburg. Younger, the father of 16 children, was a passenger in the truck which collided with a tractor-trailer truck. Earl M. Steele, 60, also of this city, was driving the coal truck and is a patient in Miners Hospital in Frostburg with internal injuries. Steele also suffered head injuries and shock.

Police Probe Robbery Of Liquor Store

Tucker County (W. Va.) authorities are investigating the robbery of the state liquor store at Parsons sometime between closing time last night and the opening hour this morning.

Stanley Lambert, manager of the establishment, said the glass in the front door of the store was found broken and the door unlocked at opening time today.

The store is located in a new building on Second Street. Lambert said, and there are no residences in the area where the noise of the entry might have been overheard.

Lambert was conducting an inventory and checking receipts at noon today to determine what had been stolen in the entry.

Investigating are Sheriff Jack Hockman and State Police Cpl. James Rightmire of the Tucker County detachment.

Sheriff Hockman said the robber apparently cut himself while making entry since blood was on the door and sidewalk outside the store.

Settlement Made In Damage Case

Settlement of a damage suit brought by a Lonaconing woman for injuries sustained when she was struck by a car in that community was noted in records at the Court House today.

Bessie Barclay, 69, brought the damage action against Raymond W. Bittinger Jr., also of Lonaconing, for severe concussion and injuries about the head, neck and body which she sustained when hit by Bittinger's car on Main Street in Lonaconing.

The accident occurred April 23, 1955 and the suit was docketed February 23, 1956. Thomas B. Finan was attorney for the woman while William H. Geppert represented the defendant. The settlement was for $3,250, according to reports.

The specific forecast for Garrett County calls for it to be cloudy and cold with light snow or snow flurries tonight and tomorrow with the snow accumulating from one to three inches. The overnight low tonight is to be 25 degrees and the high tomorrow near 28. Saturday is to be fair and cold.

Allegheny County is to have considerable cloudiness, wind and cold, tonight and tomorrow with occasional snow flurries. The overnight low is to be between 35 and 40 degrees, and the high tomorrow between 35 and 40 degrees. Saturday is to be fair and cold.

Temperatures in the tri-state section today ranged in the middle 20s and low 30s.

More Snow Due For Garrett; Credit Union Meeting Set Friday Night

Generally, driving conditions in the tri-state area were bad during the night, and State Roads Commission crews had their hands full cinderling the slick highways.

And Garrett County, which had an inch and a quarter of new snow last night, is due for more snow, according to the Weather Bureau report.

An accumulation of from one to three inches of snow is anticipated there, and Allegheny and Washington counties are to have occasional snow flurries.

Chains Recommended

Chains were recommended today in all of Garrett County and in this county in the Frostburg section.

Route 40 west of Grantsville was only ten per cent bare, while east of that town to Frostburg, it was 20 per cent bare.

From Clarysville to Cumberland Route 40 was from 75 to 100 per cent bare, but east of Cumberland snow was covering most of the National Highway.

The slick conditions caused by the snow and freezing rains were general in Maryland today.

Washington County roads were labeled extremely hazardous, and in Hagerstown streets were icy and dangerous.

City Escapes

Cumberland, however, escaped most of the slippery conditions, getting only a trace of snow.

However, Bedford Road from the city to State Line was 60 per cent covered, while Uhl Highway from here to Paw Paw was covered.

The ice failed to thaw and cinderling was necessary on many roads.

The eastern part of Allegheny County received more snow than did Frostburg, which had a half inch, and Cumberland with a trace.

Town Hill reported one inch of snow and all roads covered.

And in West Virginia, the State Roads Commission's Bureau of Public Information reported chains have been advised in Grant, Mineral, Barbour, Pendleton, Randolph and Tucker counties.

All Roads Cinderead

Lt. R. G. Coen, chief of the State Police radio division in Charleston, said his troopers reported two to five inches of snow stretching from the Northern Panhandle eastward to Maryland County in the Eastern Panhandle.

Coen added that all roads have been plowed and cinderead are passable.

St. John's Extends Call For Assistant Pastor

The congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church has voted to extend a call to Robert Huddle, student at Gettysburg (Pa.) Theological Seminary, to the Church Council as assistant pastor of the church, effective March 1.

Ort and Earl Stemple, they succeeded Richard Fey. David Lichty, Robert Mann and John Weber, church Tuesday evening. Other highlights of the session were the election of four men to the Church Council, the adoption of a $25,537 budget for the coming year, and the presentation of progress reports.

Huddle is being called as the first assistant pastor of the 65-year-old congregation, according to Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor. ## 50-Year B&O Veteran Ends Service Here

J. A. Gross Named Trainmaster After E. C. Cavey Retires

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company today announced the retirement of a veteran employee, the appointment of his successor as trainmaster, and the naming of an assistant trainmaster.

The three changes were effective as of January 1, B&O spokesmen said, and all are related to the east end of the Cumberland Division, comprised of territory between here and Brunswick.

E. C. Cavey, 600 Washington Street, retired as trainmaster here after more than 50 years of service with the Baltimore and Ohio. His successor is Joseph A. Gross, 519 Pearre Avenue, who had served as assistant trainmaster here since 1952, and J. W. Bartok has been appointed to that post after having served as assistant trainmaster at Wilmington, Del.

Began Service In 1907

Cavey entered the B&O service on July 8, 1907, as a clerk in the general manager's office in Baltimore. He was later promoted to secretary to the general superintendent, and on June 1, 1918, was named assistant trainmaster here.

Transferred to Newark, Ohio, in 1923, Cavey was promoted to trainmaster at St. Louis on June 1, 1929, and served there until August 1, 1936, when he was transferred to a similar position at Buffalo, N. Y.

Cavey was promoted to assistant superintendent at Baltimore on July 1, 1937, and named superintendent of the firm's St. Louis Division on March 16, 1938.

Served With ODT

In 1942, Cavey was granted a leave of absence to serve with the Office of Defense Transportation. Named deputy associate director of the Division for the Southern Region with the ODT, Cavey was located in Washington for the duration of the war period.

Cavey resumed his B&O service on June 1, 1946, when he was appointed assistant trainmaster here. He was promoted to trainmaster December 1, 1950, a position he held until his recent retirement.

His successor had served as assistant trainmaster here since 1952. Gross entered the B&O service as an operator at Paw Paw on March 19, 1942. He was promoted to train dispatcher here in 1949 and held that post until he was named assistant trainmaster.

Bartok, who succeeds Gross, will have his headquarters at Martinsburg, B&O officials said.

Centre Street PTA Plans Variety Show

The annual fund raising event of the Centre Street School Parent-Teacher Association this year will be a variety show with Mrs. Harry Nixon as general chairman.

Officers, besides Adams, are Kenneth Alderton, vice president; Fred B. Griffith, secretary-treasurer; and Albert E. Beckman, Clifton J. Goodrich, Angelo Muscatell and William E. Freeland, directors.

Earnings for 1957 were sufficient for the unit's board of directors to recommend that a five per cent dividend be declared.

Business at Friday night's meeting will include adoption of the board's recommendation, Adams said.

Pennsylvania Official Dies After Wreck

Pittsburgher Hurt In Four-Vehicle Crash On Turnpike

Milton Weissberg, 42, deputy secretary of labor and industry for the State of Pennsylvania, died this morning in Bedford County Memorial Hospital of injuries sustained in an accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday morning.

Weissberg was admitted to the hospital following the four-vehicle collision, and attaches said he had lost much blood before being admitted. He sustained severe lacerations over his entire body.

Marino "Fair"

Meanwhile, Francis Marino, 36, administrator officer in the Department of Labor and Industry, remains in "fair" condition at the Bedford hospital with injuries suffered in the same accident.

The two-Pittsburgh men were victims of a four-vehicle accident, which began when a state-owned car operated by Marino skidded on the ice-coated turnpike on Allegheny Mountain and landed in a ditch on the right side.

Almost immediately afterward a second car also traveling eastward down the mountain and driven by John T. Dailey, 25, Cincinnati, skidded at the same spot and ran into the rear of the state auto, causing slight damage.

Inspecting Damage

Neither Marino, Weissberg nor Dailey had been injured and all three climbed out of their vehicles to discuss the accident. While they were talking it over and inspecting the minor damage a tractor-trailer loaded with hogs came around the same curve, skidded and rammed into the Dailey car which in turn was smashed into the Marino car.

Marino and Weissberg were pinned in the wreckage and injured. They were further injured when the fourth vehicle, a tractor-trailer operated by William Land, Greensburg, Ind., rammed into the three damaged vehicles. The second rig was also carrying a load of hogs.

Turnpike Police who investigated the accident said approximately $4,000 damage was caused.

Coney Resident Given Piedmont Street Position

PIEDMONT—A Lonaconing resident was named superintendent of streets of Piedmont last night during a meeting of the Mayor and Council.

He is James E. Shockey, 52, of Charleston Street, who will replace Daniel Ross, 62. The latter died January 10 when the truck in which he was traveling to the town garbage dump near Keymont was struck by a B&O passenger train.

Shockey, who is a truck driver and familiar with various types of maintenance work, will begin work Monday at a salary of $260 a month, subject to a physical examination.

He will be placed on the job for a 30-day trial period. Mayor Rodney Baker instructed Shockey that when he goes to the town dump with a load of garbage he must be accompanied by another employee.

The employee will alight from the cab and cross the railroad tracks and signal the driver on when it is determined no railroad trains are approaching the crossing.

This will be a safety measure to avert any future tragedies similar to the January 10 fatal crash in which another town employee, Frank Greco, 57, also met death.

Charles Martin, an extra employee of the Town of Piedmont, was named a regular employee and will take Greco's place. The Mayor and Council also received five bids for a garbage truck to replace the one demolished in the crash.

The bids ranged from $3,490 to $4,401. No official action was taken on the bids.

Brief Mention
Mrs. Marjorie Ahlfeld, Jones Street, secretary of Trinity Methodist Church, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. Substituting for her is Mrs. Henrietta Kazlo, Oakview Drive, Westernport.

Unidentified Rabid Dogs On Loose In Hardy County

MOOREFIELD — Citizens are warned that several dogs which fought and killed a rabid fox last week are unidentified and loose in Hardy County.

The Page County Laboratory of Virginia verified that two of the three foxes sent to them by Raymond Orndorff were rabid. One of these two rabid animals was killed in the farmyard of Mrs. Will Helmick on January 5 in a fight with several dogs, only two of which have been identified.

Dog owners in the Needmore, Fabius and Branch Mountain sections are warned to watch their dogs carefully for the next few weeks. Rabies may develop in dogs or animals in two to six weeks and latent infections have been known to develop as long as a year later.

Neighboring Virginia has had and is continuing an intensive fight against rabid foxes in 19 counties with bounties paid by counties, rewards and prizes given by poultry raisers and sportsmen's clubs.

West Virginia's State Health Department will not accept foxes or skunks for laboratory examination unless a person is known to have been bitten. The Department of Agriculture should be notified if domestic or farm animals are suspected and the Conservation Commission is to be notified if game animals are suspected.

Parents are warned to teach their children to stand still unless directly in the path of a strange or acting animal. A rabid animal will snap at anything in its path and usually will not turn unless something moves.

Farmers and sportsmen are requesting a bounty for Hardy County from the county court and are organizing in a campaign to eliminate rabid foxes and skunks. Poultrymen are also distressed by continued reports of diseased animals, especially turkey farmers whose birds range in the open.

Livestock producers should have a more favorable price ratio of feed to animal this year.

Tunaburgers Are Tasty And Juicy

Tunaburgers are as tasty and juicy as beefburgers done up in this fashion: Combine a seven-ounce can dried tuna, 1/4 cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/4 teaspoon dash pepper and 3 tablespoons creamy mayonnaise; mix well. Split 6 round buns and butter each half. On one half place 1/2 cup tuna mixture. On top half lay a slice of Swiss cheese. Set on baking sheet and broil under moderate heat about 5 minutes. Replace tops and serve.

Don't leave anything alkaline like hard water, or anything acid such as vinegar, in an electric frying pan overnight.

Skillet Special For Lunch

For an easy but ample school-lunch, try All-in-One Skillet Special: Melt 2 tablespoons fat in large heavy skillet. Add 1/2 pound ground beef and then 1 cup chopped onion, and cook until browned, about 10 minutes. Add 1 cup sliced carrots and 1 quart water. Cover and simmer over low heat 30 to 35 minutes. Add 4 ounces medium noodles, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Cook about 10 minutes longer. Mix lightly.

Arrange on heated serving platter. Makes four servings. Save lemon halves after the juice has been squeezed out, notch the edges and use as pretty containers for tartar sauce to go with fish.

These Cookies Are Crisp, Thin

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

That All-American Peanut Butter Cookie is like the little girl with the curl: When it's good it's very good, and when it's bad it's horrid! We're happy to say that this recipe for Peanut Butter Crisps is one of the best we've ever tested. It's a crisp cookie, fairly thin, delicately spiced and keeps well in a tightly closed container.

SPICED PEANUT BUTTER AND DATE COOKIES

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/2 cup margarine, 1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter, 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 egg, 1/4 cup finely chopped dates. Method: Sift together the flour and baking powder. Cream the butter, peanut butter, nutmeg, ginger and sugars. Beat in egg thoroughly; stir in dates; gradually stir in the sifted dry ingredients. If desired chill several hours, until stiff enough to handle easily: shape dough into balls the size of a small walnut. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Flatten as thin as possible with tines of a fork dipped in water. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 12 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Store in a tightly closed container. Makes about 50 cookies.

SPICING COOKIES AND CAKES: A knowing hand with spices will often add an interesting flavor to cookies. Here are some suggestions:

Sugar cookies take a hint of ground nutmeg. Add a dash of powdered allspice, along with cinnamon and cloves, when you are making apple pie or spicy applesauce.

Mace gives pound cake and sponge cake old-time flavor. If you have pumpkin-pie spice on your kitchen shelves, you'll find it handy to use in any dessert that will benefit from a combination of cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

Cinnamon adds interest to plain chocolate cookies. Mix cinnamon with confectioners' sugar and use for sifting over doughnuts straight out of the deep-fat kettle or bought and heated.

Add a little nutmeg to whipped cream to be served with cottage pudding and fruit sauce. Nutmeg and cinnamon are both good to add to an apple quick loaf; a little powdered clove goes well in a prune quick loaf. Some cooks like to add cinnamon and mace to chocolate cake mix.

Sweet small muffins, made to serve with tea, take a pinch of nutmeg.

Mock Mince Pie Really Meatless: There's no meat in this mock mince pie, yet it's rich and tasty. Raisins, prunes and apples do the job. Packs of new-crop dried fruit are in the markets now, and the full-flavored fruit makes a good pick-me-up eaten right out of the package. All dried fruits have high food values.

Mock Mince Pie: 1 cup light or dark raisins, 3 medium-sized tart apples, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup cooked prunes, 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 teaspoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate pastry for double 9-inch crust.

Rinse and drain raisins and place in saucepan. Pare, core and dice apples, and add to raisins. Combine rind and water, and pour over fruit. Add butter. Bring to a boil, cover and cook ten minutes. Cool slightly.

Cut prunes from pits into large pieces. Blend sugar, flour, spices and monosodium glutamate. Add dry mixture and prunes to cooked mixture and mix lightly. Turn into pastry-lined pan. Top with pastry. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) 35 to 40 minutes. Serve slightly warm. Makes one (nine-inch) pie.

Garnish Fish With Lemon

There is an old song with a line or two that went something like this: "I picked a lemon in the garden of love where they say only peaches grow."

On the lemon tree there are both blossoms and fruit at the same time, the former probably used for bridal decorations, as the blossoms are white and waxy and, with their shiny green leaves very decorative. Of course, the packing houses—where the fruit is washed, graded and packed—are only interested in its quality. The smaller sizes are put aside for juice and other lemon products.

No one seemed to know why about 20 minutes or until fish is frozen lemonade has replaced the frozen fresh juice. This can, of course, be purchased in bottled or canned form, although the fresh lemon juice is often to be preferred for flavoring sauces.

Wilted Salad For A Change

Wilted salad is an old American favorite. Try it for a change.

In a heavy saucepan, sauté three slices of bacon, chopped. When crisp, add to the pan a mixture of 2 tablespoons of oil, 4 of vinegar and 1 of sugar, plus salt and pepper. Mix and bring to a boil. Add two heads of lettuce, broken in salad pieces, mix lightly and let the pan set, covered, off the stove for a few minutes. Turn the salad out onto warm plates.

Some cooks like to rub a little salad oil over the cut surfaces of cheddar cheese that is to be stored in the refrigerator to help prevent mold and drying. The cheese should be wrapped tightly, of course.

"Chop or grate the cheese. Rub the pan or chafing dish with the garlic. Mix all seasoning with the cheese. ### Good News For Dieters

Good news for dieters is research which shows that cooked meat, as it is produced and eaten today, has significantly fewer calories, less fat and more protein than the values claimed in the past.

Chicken Liver

Cooking chicken liver? Save the liver and cook in a little butter, then mash fine with a fork. Add the mashed liver to the stuffing, heat, for a minute or two. Turn for deviled eggs along with salt, pepper, salad dressing.

Herbed Onions Save Time

A lifesaver for the busy cook is canned boiled onions. Hard to tell from fresh cooked, they save time and effort in peeling and boiling. Serve them with butter and a touch of herb to complement their delicate flavor. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine in a saucepan and add a pinch of dried oregano. Open and drain a can of small boiled onions (save the liquid for soups and gravies) and toss onions in butter, over the heat, for a minute or two. Turn into a heated dish and serve immediately.

Baked Pears Add Special Touch

BAKE FRESH PEARS in the oven while Canadian bacon is browned in the broiler for an all-in-one Sunday brunch. Adds an interesting touch to a meal for guests.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

Fresh fragrant pears can give that special interesting touch to a meal for guests. Put them in a casserole with figs to serve with curried shrimp or chicken for a buffet supper. Or bake them with maple-flavored syrup and offer them with Canadian Bacon for Sunday brunch.

Baked Curried Pears

Ingredients: 3 Bosc or Anjou pears, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup light brown sugar, 2 teaspoons curry powder, 1 can (No. 2) whole Kadota figs, 1/2 cup seedless raisins. Method: Wash, halve and core pears; pare if you wish. Melt butter; add brown sugar and curry powder. Drain figs, place in 1 1/2 quart casserole with pear halves; add butter-sugar mixture and raisins. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven—30 to 40 minutes, or until pears are tender. Cool and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Reheat before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Maple Baked Pears

With Canadian Bacon. Ingredients: 3 Bosc pears, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 3 tablespoons water, 6 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 6 to 12 slices Canadian Bacon (1/4 inch thick), parsley. Method: Wash, halve and core pears; pare if you wish. Place pear halves, cut side down in baking pan containing lemon juice and water. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 10 minutes; turn pears and spoon 1 tablespoon syrup in center of each. Dot with butter and bake for 10 to 15 minutes, basting occasionally. Broil Canadian Bacon slices 3 inches from heat source, turning to brown evenly—for 3 to 5 minutes on each side. Arrange pear halves in center of heated platter. Circle with bacon slices and garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Potato Chips Prove Handy

Many new and unusual recipes have been created using potato chips as an ingredient. The following two recipes are especially timely during this holiday season.

Potato Chip Stuffing

1 1/2 cups crumbled potato chips, 3 cups diced bread, 1 1/2 tablespoons butter, 2 oz. can or 1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, chopped, 1/2 cup diced celery and leaves, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1/16 teaspoon sage or poultry seasoning.

Crumble potato chips and place in large bowl. Remove crusts from bread and dice in 1/2-inch cubes. Place bread in mixing bowl. Brown mushrooms lightly in butter. Add celery and onions and cook for 2 minutes longer. Add salt, pepper, and sage to mushroom mixture and blend well. Combine mushroom mixture with chips and bread and mix well. Salt inside of chicken or turkey and then fill with stuffing. Makes 5 1/2 cups stuffing or enough for a 5-pound fowl. For an 18-pound turkey, triple the recipe.

Chocolate Chip Bars

8 ounces milk chocolate, 1 1/2 cups crushed potato chips. Break chocolate into pieces. Heat chocolate over boiling water until half melted; then remove from boiling water and stir until completely melted. Add crushed potato chips and mix well. Line a tray with wax paper. Spread chocolate mixture on wax paper in a thin layer. Set in a cool place until firm. With a sharp knife cut into squares or bars. Mixture may be dropped by teaspoon making chocolate chip drops.

Sunday Dinner

Rangelop menu: Tomato Juice, Crisp Crackers, Liz's Chicken, Steamed Rice, Broccoli with Lemon Butter, Salad Bowl, Bread Tray, Chocolate Pudding with Whipped Cream, Beverage, Liz's Chicken.

Ingredients: 1 broiler-fryer (about 2 1/2 pounds), 3 tablespoons olive oil, 2 small onions, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 cup light cream. Method: Have chicken cut in 12 pieces; reserve wing tips, neck and giblets for stock for another dish. Heat oil in a 10-inch skillet; brown chicken in oil. Peel onions, slice thin and separate into rings. Add onions to skillet with salt, celery salt, paprika and parsley. Cover skillet and cook gently until onions wilt—about 10 minutes. Pour cream over chicken; cover and simmer until chicken is tender—20 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Wheat Germ High In Protein Content

Wheat germ, discarded in the milling of white flour but now available in package form for human consumption, is a most nutritious food supplement. It contains high amounts of protein, iron, phosphorus, B-complex vitamins, and mixed tocopherols vitamin E.

Friday Fare

Add cheese to an omelet for both flavor and nutrition.

Omelet Delmonico, Crisp Potato Sticks, Asparagus and Tomatoes, Vinaigrette, Hard Rolls.

French Omelet Squares

Ingredients: For an individual omelet—2 large eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 saltspoon white pepper, 1 table-spoon butter.

Method: Put the eggs, grated cheese, milk, salt and pepper in a small mixing bowl; beat with fork or small whisk until yolks and whites are combined. Have butter in 8-inch skillet very hot; add egg mixture and cook rapidly, stirring with fork and lifting pan from heat as necessary, to make a French omelet. Shake the pan, while stirring, to keep the omelet free and have the eggs as flat and level as possible. The bottom should be set but not browned, the top slightly moist. With fork, fold the edge of omelet near handle to the center; fold over remaining edge. With skillet handle in left hand, slide omelet to edge of pan furthest from you and turn onto hot plate. Serve at once. It only takes a few minutes to make each omelet; keep them in a warm place on hot individual plates until you have made as many as necessary.

Be sure to prick a pie shell thoroughly before baking to prevent shrinking.

Tip On Toasters

Always disconnect the toaster from the electric outlet before trying to remove a piece of bread that is lodged in it.

Seeds In Dressing

If your family likes the flavor of poppy seed, try adding it to a French dressing for a green salad.

Orange Duck Sauce

Heat orange juice with a little sugar; add grated orange rind and lots of chopped water-cress. Serve this sauce with roast duck.

Steak And Smoked Hams Put On 'Best Buy' List

By The Associated Press

Steak and smoked hams get the feature treatment in many supermarkets and neighborhood stores this weekend. Sirloin, porterhouse and round steak will be special attractions priced to catch the housewife's eye. This situation may be repeated fairly often in the next few months, since some livestock men are saying that grain-fed steers, which yield the better grades of beef, will drop 10 to 15 per cent by April.

Any general beef decline, however, is not expected for a year or so. The reason is that cattlemen who saw their herds dwindle during the drought are holding cattle off the market. This results in shrinking supplies of slaughter animals—and high prices. Aside from the bargains in smoked ham, pork prices are generally higher this week by as much as 10 cents a pound. Fryers also are up, although the range is only two to four cents a pound.

The second Florida freeze has made it tougher than before to find real bargains in fruits and vegetables. About the best of the lot in vegetable bins are onions, potatoes and celery, although more new cabbage is coming to market with a subsequent lowering in prices.

The so-called cooking greens—collard, kale and spinach—also are good buys. Western iceberg lettuce is a bit cheaper, rating a fairly good buy label.

Cucumbers Still Dear Cucumbers, which in recent weeks have hit their highest levels in several years, backed down somewhat this week, but they're still very dear. Eggplant, peppers and squash are in the same category—lower but still high priced. Squash was one of the hardest-hit vegetables in the freeze.

Cauliflower is available in a wide range of quality and condition and beans, although only ordinary to fair in quality, are more expensive than usual.

If you want to eat them right away, apples are the best buy among the fruits. Florida citrus is still high, but grapes from the West Coast are at bargain levels.

Dandy Breakfast

Spicy Prune Juice
Puffy Omelet
Cinnamon Toast
Coffee
Milk
Breakfast menus can be made as interesting as lunch and dinner menus. To add a bit of zest to your first meal of the day, serve Spicy Prune Juice. The night before, heat together a bottle of prune juice, lemon slices, stick cinnamon and whole cloves. Strain the mixture and chill until morning.

Good customs: the Danes like to serve celery with cheese, the English offer watercress.

Corn Pudding Easily Made

Corn pudding is one of those vegetable treats we don't enjoy often enough. Easy to make with a can of cream-style corn, milk, eggs and seasoning; certainly plenty of nutritive foods there to help guard the family health during winter months.

One of the important seasonings is onion, so convenient now that it comes in its new moisture-free form.

Corn Pudding
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 eggs
1 (No. 2) can cream-style corn
1 tablespoon instant minced onion or 1 chopped small raw onion (1/4 cup)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
Heat milk and butter together until butter is melted. Beat eggs lightly, add milk and all remaining ingredients. Turn into 1-quart baking dish and set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about 40 minutes, or until set in center.

Gelatin In Diet Helps Fragile Fingernails

The only published, authenticated research on the treatment of fragile, breaking fingernails with unflavored gelatin has been based on a daily supplement of the diet with one envelope (115 to 120 grains) of plain gelatin.

Onion Soup

Here's an intriguing soup combination that's quick and easy to do out of cans. Combine a can of French-type onion soup with a can of cream of chicken soup. Thin down with 1/2 can of water. Mix thoroughly, serve piping hot with croutons and a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese.

Ground Beef In Mysterious Chinese Dish

The Chinese have a simple yet elegant way of preparing a recipe, no matter how involved it sounds.

Fundamentally, they like to cook the food right in front of their guests and serve it while still piping hot.

Chinese Scramble may look difficult but it can really be classified as a simplified version of a skillet dinner.

Reba Staggs, well versed in the field of eat and meat cookery, mentions that ground beef is the main ingredient. Just look how easily it is put together. First the meat is browned in lard or drippings, the drippings are removed and the meat is seasoned, and then combined with condensed mushroom soup and cut green beans and three medium-sized tomatoes cut into eighths. This mixture is then served over Chinese noodles.

Chinese Scramble

- 1 pound ground beef
  - 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
  - 1 can (4 ounces) mushrooms and liquid
  - 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed mushroom soup
  - 1 can (16 ounces) cut green beans, drained
  - 3 medium tomatoes
- Cook ground beef in lard or drippings until lightly browned. Pour off drippings. Add salt, marjoram, mushrooms and liquid, mushroom soup and green beans. Cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Peel tomatoes, remove seeds and cut into eighths. Add to mixture and cook about one-half minute longer. Serve over Chinese noodles. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Stud the white frosting of a cake with small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate, arranging them in a pattern if you like.

One of the guaranteed marks of success is to be given a writeup in Time Magazine. And, in the past, although it hasn't been intentional, one of the surest ways for the "kiss of death" has been to be given just such a spread in the nationally-distributed weekly publication. Time will tell.

Under the title of "The Country Slickers," Time devotes one-and-one-half columns of its sports section this week to West Virginia's top-ranking basketball team and a version of how the Mountaineers got that way.

The story tells briefly of the spectacular comeback victory over Villanova last week, then discusses the career of coach Fred Schaus and his development of what Time labels "home-grown Kangaroos."

It says the WVU mentor has created an "anomaly in big-time college basketball" by cultivating a "home-grown team" from his state and an occasional foray into Pennsylvania. Twelve of the 14-squad members are from West Virginia. The other two are Key-State products.

"North Carolina combs the New York subway circuit for its players, and Kansas stretched out to Philadelphia for Wilt (The Slim) Chamberlain," the magazine points out.

"But Schaus finds his stars in towns like East Bank (pop. 1,500) and Shinnston (pop. 2,793). As a result, the state rightly looks on the team as its own, not a high-priced import, follows its games with chauvinistic zeal."

Time also discusses the Schaus coaching system and says as a result he has turned out an "extraordinarily well-balanced team."

Last night in playing Pitt, its most bitter rival, West Virginia came up with another ulcer-developing 71-64 victory. The Mountaineers had trailed all during the first half and didn't forge ahead until about eight minutes remained in the game.

In producing their 13th straight triumph to equal the school's best mark, the undefeated and No. 1 ranked Mountaineers now have time off for exams and will be inactive until Saturday, January 25, when they invade Greenville, S. C., to meet Furman.

If the "kiss of death" is to strike the Morgantown U. hoopsters, it will at least have to wait ten more days.

Sports Sputterings

A new voice will be filtering through the radio waves this year when the major league baseball season gets underway and local fans begin listening to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Jim Woods, former New York sports-caster, will replace Dick Bingham as assistant to Bob Prince in broadcasting the radio and television accounts of games for the Bucs this summer.

Bingham, who had helped air Pirate games for the past three years, possessed one of the best deliveries we've heard since first tuning in on the broadcast of games.

One of the saddest stories in sports was revealed this morning when it was reported that "Old Double-X" Jim Fox was nearly destitute. Only the incomparable Babe Ruth ever smashed more homers out of the playing field and it is doubtful if there was ever a stronger player in the majors than James Emory Fox, who was another of the products of the state of Maryland contributed to the majors.

Fox, by the way, was the first major league star to ever be selected as the Most Valuable Player on three different occasions. He won the award in 1932-33 and then in 1933.

Maybe an elbow operation has opened up a new field for Cleveland pitcher Bob Lemon.

The Indians are counting heavily on a comeback by the former infielder-turned-reliever who had elbow chips removed from his right arm.

"I don't know how good the arms is," he mused, "but I'm a better golfer than I ever was."

To the Temple Owl basketball roster who had been in doubt as to the series standing between the Philadelphi-ans and West Virginia University. It's even-Stephen for 34 games, both winning 17.

The last time they played was during the 1949-50 season and they divided the games, West Virginia taking the first contest, 37-46, and then being drubbed, 85-52, in the return game on the Owl's home court.

Navy football coach Eddie Erdelatz, who is possibly now wishing he had never heard of the wide open spaces of Texas after turning down the head coaching position at A & M. Probably had Army coach "Red" Blaik pulling for him to desert the Naval Academy.

In eight seasons at Annapolis, Erdelatz's up-and-coming sophomore John Navy squad had defeated Army Milhoan of Gallipolis, Ohio, Ad-kins, also a sophomore, has seen every sense of the word. During the 1957 football season the Owl one of the few coaches in the country able to boast of an edge Moundsville products on the squad, passed it, intercepted it, returned over the West Point tutor.

The other, defensive star Sonny punts and also returned kickoffs. The next time anybody wants Allen, has seen considerable action He led the team in scoring with Bronko Nagurski at a formal in reserve both this season and 47 points, including 17 placements in 22 attempts.

Revlin Drops Pair Because Of Grades

HUNTINGTON (AP)—Guards John Derrow of Moundsville and Brooks Akins of Huntington have been dropped from the Marshall College basketball team.

In announcing this yesterday, coach Jule Revlin said both had been having trouble with their grades.

Derrow was a starter early this season but lost out recently to an Anderson of Gallipolis, Ohio, Ad-kins, also a sophomore, has seen every sense of the word. During the 1957 football season the Owl one of the few coaches in the country able to boast of an edge Moundsville products on the squad, passed it, intercepted it, returned over the West Point tutor.

WVU Gains Champion Look, Carolina Skids

Schaus Club Topples Pitt As Tar Heels Lose To State

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

What a difference a year makes. North Carolina, the NCAA title holder, has hit the skids while West Virginia's Mountaineers have gained a poised, championship look.

The Mountaineers, top-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, played it cool again last night, calmly coming from behind for a 71-64 decision over Pitt and a 13-0 record.

Lose Two In Row
But sixth-ranked North Carolina, losing two in a row for the first time since the end of the 1955 season, was knocked off 38-37 in overtime by North Carolina State for the Tar Heels' third defeat in 14 starts.

Just 12 months ago, North Carolina was in the midst of its un- college basketball" by cultivating a "home-grown team" from his state and an occasional foray into Pennsylvania. Twelve of the 14-squad members are from West Virginia. The other two are Key-State products.

"North Carolina combs the New York subway circuit for its players, and Kansas stretched out to Philadelphia for Wilt (The Slim) Chamberlain," the magazine points out.

McKendree Wins, Stays Undefeated

Unbeaten McKendree Methodist racked up its 12th victory yesterday in the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League American Division race with a 65-27 rout of Kingsley Methodist on the "Y" court. The loss was the third for Kingsley in a dozen showings.

South Cumberland Salvation Army lost to First Methodist, 45-28, in the other game with the 64 last night before a capacity Methodist marking up their 11th win in 13 games.

A pair of tilts are on tap today with St. John's Lutheran opposing Trinity Lutheran at 5 o'clock while Central Methodist tangles with St. Paul's Lutheran at 8:55.

Both games are carded for the "Y" boards.

Dodgers Remain 'Homeless' Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers — who couldn't have had a tougher time if they'd come west in covered wagons — were still homeless today, after another "day of decision" on which nothing was decided.

The Men-or-al Coliseum Commission delayed action again yesterday on the question of letting the Dodgers rent the 101,000-seat stadium in 1958 and 1959.

Tomorrow is the new "day of decision." The commission will meet then, at any rate, and if they get around to voting the thing will be settled one way or another.

King Hill Of Rice Real Triple Threat

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—King Hill of Rice was a triple threat in every sense of the word. During the 1957 football season the Owl one of the few coaches in the country able to boast of an edge Moundsville products on the squad, passed it, intercepted it, returned over the West Point tutor.

The other, defensive star Sonny punts and also returned kickoffs. The next time anybody wants Allen, has seen considerable action He led the team in scoring with Bronko Nagurski at a formal in reserve both this season and 47 points, including 17 placements in 22 attempts.

BLOCKED — Don Hennon, Pitt guard (in white) is blocked by West Virginia's Ronnie Retton as he comes in for a layup near end of first half in last night's game at Pittsburgh. A foul was called on Hennon for charging. No. 1 ranked West Virginia won, 71-64, to stay undefeated and record its 13th victory.

Schaus Cites Lloyd Sharrar As Difference In Triumph

By JACK LYNCH
PITTSBURGH (AP)—In basketball, as in boxing, there's just no substitute for a good big man. Unbeaten West Virginia has a 13-game winning streak and top ranking nationally to prove it.

The Mountaineer's good big man is Lloyd Sharrar, 6-10 senior from Meadville, Pa.

Both Coaches Agree

"Sharrar undoubtedly made the difference," agreed coaches Fred Schaus of West Virginia and Bob Timmons of Pitt after the Mountaineers defeated the Panthers 71-64 last night before a capacity crowd of 5,168.

Sharrar did indeed make the difference, grabbing 13 rebounds and chipping in with 21 points as the Mountaineers proved once again that they can come from behind.

The rangy center, who has a fine hook shot to go with his rebounding talent, also figured prominently in West Virginia's 76-75 victory over Villanova last week. With play going to Virginia Tech (1-2) and Furman (0-2) invades Davidson (2-1).

Until the Generals and Purple Paladins win a circuit contest, Schaus made no bones about his confidence in Sharrar as the star of the game although he heaped on the outside looking in when the 6-10 forward was on the court.

Sharrar Comes Into Own

"Lloyd really has come into his own since Rod (Hot Rod) Hundley is gone. He can do more things now, and he does them better," Schaus was quick to add his comments were no reflection on Hundley, an All-America last year, whom he described as "one hell of a basketball player."

Pitt's big men were just too little for Sharrar although 6-4 non-league play, league-leading Chuck Hursh managed to control West Virginia — the nation's No. 1 team — fairly well in the first half, but Hursh paid the penalty by fouling out with 13 minutes left.

"Hursh did a good job on Sharrar," Schaus said, "but when he left the game Sharrar was able to get off his hook shots."

The inability of Sharrar and his teammates to hit from the floor kept them as much as 10 points behind during the first half before drawing to a 29-28 deficit at intermission.

Quartet Dixie Fives Seeking Tournery Berth

By The Associated Press

Four of the Southern Conference basketball teams still on the doubtful list as far as berths in the annual league tournament are concerned look horns tonight in their bids for a spot in the playoffs.

Washington & Lee (0-4) in league play goes to Virginia Tech (1-2) and Furman (0-2) invades Davidson (2-1).

Until the Generals and Purple Paladins win a circuit contest, Schaus made no bones about his confidence in Sharrar as the star of the game although he heaped on the outside looking in when the 6-10 forward was on the court.

Unbeaten Gaels After Sixth Win

St. Mary's the last of the undefeated quintets in the Catholic Youth Basketball League, puts its spotless record on the line tonight against SS. Peter and Paul on the Gaels' court at 7:30.

The Gaels of coach Dick Blake have won five starts and hold a one-and-one-half game lead over second place St. Michael's of Frostburg. The Flying Dutchmen, the defending champs, have taken three of five starts and are in third place.

St. Patrick's, with a .500 record in six outings, will meet St. Peter's of Westernport on the SS. Peter and Paul court while the St. Michael's and St. Joseph's of Midland contest has been postponed. St. Peter's has been able to win once in five tries.

WVU Equals School Record In Beating Pitt

By The Associated Press

The West Virginia basketball team last night tied the school record for consecutive victories by coming from behind to win its 13th this season from Pitt by a score of 71-64.

The Mountaineers lagged throughout the first half and didn't catch up until four minutes into the second. They went ahead to stay at 38-37 after 7:36 in the period on a field goal by Jerry West, whose 23 points were by seven free throws, kept the game close.

Only the bulls-eye shooting of Pitt's Don Hennon, who sank 11 field goals and every one of his seven free throws, kept the game close.

Idle Until Jan. 25

WVU won't play again until Jan. 25, as the team members settle down to their books to prepare for examinations. The next opponent will be Furman, at Greenville, S.C., followed two days later by Duke at Durham, N.C.

In State Conference games last night, both West Virginia Tech and West Virginia Wesleyan, tied beforehand for the conference leadership with 9-0 records, were winners. But Wesleyan beat Bethany, 74-60, a conference competitor, to improve its standing, while Tech's demolitionist (125-99) of the Camp Lejeune Marines did nothing toward helping its position relative to state teams.

Although Wesleyan, with its present 10-0 count, has taken the WVAC lead, it faces two more competitors this week, both of which will be primed to knock it from among the undefeated.

Tonight Wesleyan will go up against Wheeling, which has taken only one game out of eight and doesn't size up as a serious threat. But on Friday the leaders opponent will be West Liberty, whose 6-3 conference record could mean difficulty, if not disaster.

Tech Plays Glenville

Tech, on the other hand, has only one more game to get through this week — but a tough one. Tonight it plays host to Glenville, which stands 4-5 in the conference and is smarting from its close loss (85-84) to the Camp Lejeune Marines on Tuesday. Judging by the performance of the two teams against the invaders, Tech should come out on top, though not without a struggle.

The Marines will try another State Conference tonight in Morris Harvey, which will be warming up for its big one against Marshall Saturday.

Bob Satterfield Quits As Fighter

CHICAGO (INS) — Eighth-ranked heavyweight boxing contender Bob Satterfield announced his retirement from the ring today after learning he has a detached retina of the left eye.

Satterfield, a 34-year-old veteran whose erratic career spans 13 years and 77 professional fights, seemed puzzled by the ailment.

Although he has suffered 12 knockouts, Satterfield said he never sustained a serious eye injury during a fight.

Satterfield's retirement will force matchmaker Ben Bentley to seek a substitute in Bob's scheduled 10-rounder against New York heavyweight Wayne Bethea. The fight was to be televised nationally from Chicago Stadium January 29.

Three More Orioles Sign '58 Contracts

BALTIMORE (AP)—Outfielder Joe Durham and Pitchers Charlie Beamon and Milt Pappas, who hope to stick with the Baltimore Orioles, returned their 1958 contracts today.

Durham was called up from San Antonio last June 11 but was able to bat only 185 in 77 American League games. Beamon spent the 1957 season at Vancouver.

Pappas pitched relief in four Oriole games and in three games for Knoxville of the Sally League for a brief season.

Idle Terps Cop Lead As Tar Heels Beaten

By The Associated Press

North Carolina toppled from the top of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball standings last night for the first time since the start of the 1956-57 season.

Maryland, with a 4-1 ACC record, took over the conference's No. 1 spot, thanks to North Carolina State's 58-57 victory over the Tar Heels in an overtime game.

Lisle Blackburn Seeks Eagle Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lisle Blackburn, who was fired a week ago as coach of the Green Bay Packers, has tossed his hat into the ring for the vacant head coach job of the Philadelphia Eagles.

General Manager Vince McNally said yesterday that Blackburn phoned the Eagles and asked to be considered when the Eagles select a successor to Hugh Devore, who was recently dismissed.

Other than to say that Blackburn would be given every consideration, McNally would make no further comment on the National Football League club's search for a head coach.

Los Angeles Dodgers — who couldn't have had a tougher time if they'd come west in covered wagons — were still homeless today, after another "day of decision" on which nothing was decided.

The Men-or-al Coliseum Commission delayed action again yesterday on the question of letting the Dodgers rent the 101,000-seat stadium in 1958 and 1959.

Tomorrow is the new "day of decision." The commission will meet then, at any rate, and if they get around to voting the thing will be settled one way or another.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Adolescent asks verdict on brother, 15, who keeps household in constant uproar.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My brother is 15 and I am 16. He is getting to be a real problem and frequently has the house in an uproar.

Although he goes to a good school and receives fair marks, he walks around the house talking very ignorantly and without thinking. He has absolutely no consideration for other people's feelings and acts like a 5-year-old.

He becomes very irritated when anyone tries to correct his mannerisms and violently rejects any good advice. He is snappy; answers my parents back and must always have the last word.

He loves to tease both our smaller brother and me and often wears himself out trying to make us mad. If his teasing doesn't work, he then begins to throw his body around; he's five feet ten and weighs 160 pounds—and that is when the real trouble begins.

ing don't let anger carry over; heal it then and there.)

Also we are advised to "turn the other cheek"—which, freely translated, means don't strike back. Rather try to bear the bad actor's misbehavior with good grace, and with charity of mind, without losing your poise.

As for how to put these precepts into practice—the operation is quite simple. When your brother is trying to pick a fight, stir up trouble, get a rise out of people, etc., by needing their feelings, the family ought to give him the silent treatment. They shouldn't give him the satisfaction of a noisy exchange. They should ignore him.

It would be a good protective mechanism, practically guaranteed to keep him from getting under your skin. Also it would be a powerful squelch; because as someone (was it Chesterton?) has said: "Silence is the unbearable reprimand"—when dealing with injustice or malice.

Lessons In Judo Might Be Useful

Your brother couldn't get your goat with his "last word" if you didn't give him a chance at dialogue. As for what to do when he starts throwing his bulk around—why doesn't somebody in the household take a few lessons in judo, and get in shape to toss him on his ear?

The other afternoon I watched a student of judo—a muscular young man—show a few tricks to a trio of girls. And in a half hour's time, the learners had him off balance, and reeling.

Success with judo isn't a matter of beef or brawn, but of practiced know-how. It is a form of self-defense that girls and younger brothers and sisters of bully types would do well to acquire. I am sure you could find classes in judo instruction, in the big town through which you write.

It is unfortunate that your mother can't take charge of the situation with real authority. To be sick with aggravation, when adolescents are misbehaving, instead of belting them into line with moral vigor, is a pretty sad showing in the role of parent. If your brother continues to be a disciplinary problem on the home front, he ought to be sent to a good military school—and taught to obey orders and keep his neck in.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of the Evening Times.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Recent stewardship program, the pastor pointed out.

Membership increases were noted in the reports on various areas of church activity during 1957. It was pointed out that the community membership was 662 as of December 31, an increase of 79 over 1956. The baptized membership of the congregation totals 1,574.

Improvement projects last year included redecoration of the parsonage, payment in full on the recently-acquired property that adjoins the church and establishment of a fund program to cover the cost of organ renovation.

Rev. Mr. Fink said a parish secretary was added to the staff last year, and new ventures undertaken in stewardship and evangelism.

He pointed out that St. John's Church is officially entered in missionary support program of the United Lutheran Church. In addition to regular benevolence funds, the congregation also is partially underwriting the salary of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Schmut-thener, Lutheran missionaries to India.

Teacher Unit Votes Backing MSTA Plan

The Allegany County Teachers Association last night passed a resolution voting full support of the Maryland State Teachers Association's five-year legislative program.

The association, meeting in Parkside School, heard a report of the speakers' bureau which has been formed to inform organizations on this five-year plan. That was made by John D. Kelly, of the Beall High School faculty.

Thomas Hutcheson, of the Beall faculty, chairman of the social committee, reported the association will sponsor a dinner in the early spring to honor retired county teachers, and also those who just started to teach in the county schools this year.

Miss Martha Shaner, of the Johnson Heights School faculty, reported on the leadership training institute to be held in May at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. This prepares association leaders to be better acquainted with the MSTA work.

The ACTA also voted to send three delegates to the National Education Association convention in Cleveland in July.

These delegates together with representatives to the MSTA convention next fall, and new officers will be elected at the next general meeting in April at a date and place not chosen.

A joint meeting of the executive and nominating committees will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Board of Education building.

Mandatory Term Not Necessary

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 1954 law says jail sentences are mandatory for second-time drunken driving offenders, but Maryland's attorney general has ruled that trial magistrates may issue suspended sentences in such cases.

Atty. Gen. Sybert said an earlier law gave magistrates authority to suspend sentence in any case within their jurisdiction. His opinion said the General Assembly apparently was unaware of the earlier provision when the 1954 law was enacted.

A ruling in the matter had been requested by Magistrate G.W. Ekloff Jr. of Howard County.
